REMAINDER OF MORGAN LOAN TAKEN BY BANK
Paris, July 22.—(AP)—The senate early today adopted the bill of Minister of Finance De Monzie providing for transfer to the Bank of France of the remainder of the Morgan loan. As the chamber of deputies previously had passed the bill it now becomes law.

Paris, July 21.—(AP)—Raymond Poincaré, former president of the republic and former premier, will take up the task of organizing a new cabinet to replace that headed by Edouard Herriot, which failed tonight to receive the support of the chamber by a vote of 290 to 237.

President Doumergue, in deference to the general desire of parliament, the press and public has decided that the time is ripe for a national ministry representing all, or as many parties as possible, to work for the rehabilitation of the finances of France. He asked M. Poincaré to organize such a ministry, and this Poincaré agreed to do. He will consult with the political leaders tomorrow.

Resigns His Place.
The Herriot declaration of policy was not acceptable to parliament and Herriot handed the resignation of his ministry to the president.

Notwithstanding the resignation of the cabinet, M. De Monzie, finance minister, continued his efforts for the passage of his bill authorizing the transfer to the Bank of France of the balance of the $100,000,000 Morgan loan, amounting to approximately $25,000,000. The chamber adopted this, with a clause added by the finance committee permitting a further note issue of an equal amount. This bill has yet to go through the senate.

The Herriot cabinet was defeated in the chamber of deputies after barely two days' existence.

Premier Is Hooted.
Outside, while the vote was in progress, police reserves curbed a crowd of several thousand Parisians who hooted the premier and members of his government. The temper of the crowd was described as "ugly" and it was seen as trying the mounting apprehension of the country at large.

The Herriot cabinet was formed to succeed the tenth ministry of Aristide Briand and to rehabilitate the financial position of France. It lasted just a few hours longer than the Franco-Marshall ministry, which in 1924 was formed to present the case of the president of the republic, Alexandre Millerand to parliament, after M. Herriot had refused to receive a mission to form a cabinet at his hands.

HARMONY REIGNS AS IOWA G. O. P. BURIES HATCHET

All Candidates Chosen at June 7 Primary, Including Smith W. Brookhart, Given Indorsement.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 21.—(AP)—Iowa republicans in their state convention today buried all their hatchets, voiced approval of all candidates chosen at the June 7 primary, accepted to their bosoms Smith W. Brookhart, unelected United States senator, once termed a party outcast, and again their senatorial nominee, demanded equality for agriculture, and commended the national and state administrations.

At least two hard fights were waged before the resolutions committee, but in the open all was tranquility, and but for two interruptions the gathering outwardly would have been an old-fashioned love feast.

Make Brief Speeches.
During the afternoon session various republican leaders were called to the platform for brief addresses while the convention awaited the report of the resolutions committee.

Sherman F. Myers, of Anita, sought to gain the floor to speak against Mr. Brookhart, but was howled down. He got in one thrust at the senatorial nominee, however, with a shouted remark that he wanted to know "how many democrats are in this convention, and that they are the fellows that nominated Brookhart."

Ten minutes after adjournment when the eight resolutions making up the party platform for the next election were upon point of adoption, W. E. Moore, of Guthrie Center, sought to offer an amendment from the floor. His attempt to read his resolution which would have indorsed guaranteeing bank deposits, was shouted down.

Primary Changes Beaten.
Efforts to have incorporated a resolution favoring removal from the primary law of all except county officers and indorsing Senator Albert B. Cummins, recently defeated for renomination by Mr. Brookhart, failed in the committee meeting.

The resolutions mentioned only one name, President Coolidge. There had been much talk of seriously condemning the president and the national administration for their reported attitude towards congressional relief for agriculture. Instead the resolutions commended Mr. Coolidge and merely demanded that the republican policy of economic equality of agriculture with other industries shall be carried into effect by the enactment of legislation which will permit the establishment of an American price level for agricultural products above the world price level, just as the protective tariff accomplishes that result for manufactured products.

CRISIS IN FRANCE CAUSE OF REGRET AT WASHINGTON

Feeling of Sympathy at United States Capital Overshadows Resentment at Indignities.

BRITISH OFFICIALS ARE NOT IN FAVOR

Americans Believe This Government's Attitude Is Inexcusably Misrepresented in London.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, July 21.—Regret and sympathy mark the dominant attitude here toward France in her difficulties. This feeling almost entirely overshadows any resentment growing out of the attacks on the American debt funding policy and the personal indignities suffered by Americans in France during the last 24 hours.

There is considerably more feeling against British officials than against the French. American officials believe this government's attitude is being seriously misrepresented in London and without excuse. In the case of France, it is realized here that her extreme financial difficulties and the uncertainties which so closely affect the lives of the people, have caused a nervous state which excuses some of the bitterness toward this country. England, however, has no such excuse to worry her and her attacks on the United States are therefore less understandable here.

The situation is so delicate that executive officials declined to discuss it publicly. Even Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, declined to speak for publication.

However, without quoting any particular official specifically, it may be said that the viewpoint presented here reflects the situation here so far as executive quarters go.

Complications Expected.
While no official has ventured to suggest it yet, it is probable that the French crisis will cause some very marked complications in the debt funding arrangements with the United States. In face of chaotic conditions approaching official bankruptcy in Paris, it is hardly to be expected that France will ratify the debt funding agreement until her financial situation is adjusted. This probably will not be accomplished without a series

FRAUD ALLEGED IN BANK PROBE

Boykin Says "Fictitious Transactions and Buckshot Speculation" Disclosed.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Evidence of "fictitious transactions and use of bank funds for buckshot speculation" is being disclosed by the investigation of the solicitor general's office into affairs of the Bankers Trust company, bankruptcy proceedings of which last week was followed by the closing of more than 80 small banks in Georgia, John A. Boykin, Fulton county solicitor, declared Wednesday.

"The investigation up to this period has disclosed that many fictitious transactions have been resorted to in an effort to hide funds which were unlawfully diverted and this seems to be one of the favorite systems whereby large sums have been diverted to the benefit of the Bankers Trust company and certain of its officials," Mr. Boykin said in discussing the investigation of his department.

"Everything indicates that bank funds involving large amounts have been squandered by certain individuals in Atlanta in buckshot speculation," he said. "No local pride or influence of any kind brought to bear on the case will deter me from the most vigorous and exhaustive prosecution of the guilty parties."

In addition to the investigation being conducted by the solicitor general

SHOWERS CHECK MERCURY RISE; 99.8 RECORDED

Hottest Weather of Summer Is Recorded Here. More Torrid Days Are Forecast.

NO LONG DROUTH SEEN BY PROPHET

Deaths, Prostrations and Paralysis of Industry in Sweltering Eastern Cities Reported.

Although a temporary halt was recorded in the upward climb of the thermometer Wednesday afternoon, no permanent relief is in sight from the heat wave of the past few days, C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, predicted Wednesday night.

"The forecast for today is continued hot and dry weather," he said, "and there is little chance of cooler weather before the end of the week. No thundershowers are expected for this afternoon."

The mercury soared to a new record for this year early Wednesday afternoon, when 99.8 degrees were reached, the maximum being reported in round figures at 100 degrees. This, however, is not a record at the local weather bureau, a temperature of 101.2 degrees having been recorded on July 3, 1925.

Mr. von Herrmann, who is somewhat adverse to giving out predictions too far in advance, stated Wednesday that the present hot and dry spell should not extend over a long period.

No Drouth Seen.
"While it is impossible to forecast the weather very far in the future," he declared, "I do not believe that this summer will be a repetition of last year's. Last summer was a very unusual summer and I think we will have a reasonable amount of rain this year."

The check on the mercury Wednesday afternoon came as the thermometer was mounting toward the 100 mark. At 2 o'clock it had reached 98.5 degrees, but shortly afterward a light thundershower brought the mercury to 78 degrees.

The lowest reading recorded Wednesday

The headlines of the most recent article are as follows:
"Usury."
"Europe must pay."
"The cold facts."
The text beneath says:
"Every penny of the British debt to the United States went to buy American goods at high prices fixed by the American government. The British proposal to pay for American goods with British goods was rejected."
"American loss of life in action during the war was 40,464; the British loss was 908,000."
"The British government proposed to the United States in 1922 that all war debts be canceled. The United States declined."
The article editorializes on the "harsh terms imposed on the allies by the great and wealthy American nation which so prides itself on its generosity and idealism."

Tennessee Senator Declares That Actual Expenses of Government Have Shown Increase.

COOLIDGE INDORSED PROJECTS SCORED

McKellar Declares President Recommended Much Larger Appropriations Than Congress Passed.

Memphis, Tenn., July 21.—(AP)—Senator Kenneth D. McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, in a statement issued tonight takes issue with declarations of economy on the part of the present national administration and asserted that "the truth is that there has been economy practiced in President Coolidge's administration at any time and he is just now learning the true facts."

"Actual governmental expenses have increased every year since he has been in office," the statement said. "The only difference is this year the increase has been more marked and it is now apparent to every informed person that there is no such thing as 'Coolidge economy.'"

Mr. McKellar declared that the president recommended to the last congress much larger appropriations than congress actually passed and in support of his contention cited the bill proposing an appropriation of $100,000,000 for payment of American claims against the German government, the proposal for the building of the Boulder dam on the Colorado river, the Cape Cod project and the Fess farm loan bill, none of which was passed by congress.

BORAH'S AUGUSTA SPEECH RAPPED

Edwards Accuses Idaho Solon of "Casting Dastardly Slur on Hundreds of Americans."

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, was accused of casting "a dastardly slur on hundreds of Americans" seeking modification of the Volstead law, in a formal statement today by Senator Edwards, democrat, New Jersey.

He challenged the Idaho senator to disprove his loyalty because he had been "an uncompromising advocate of anti-Volsteadism."

Senator Edwards said the speech by the Idaho senator in Augusta, Ga., last Sunday contained "more fury and less sense than any other thoughts to which he has given expression since he attained the heights of premier American statesmanship."

"For Senator Borah to place honest and sincere advocates of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and modification of the Volstead act in the same category with Russian bolshevists, black-shirt fascists and Polish democratic dictators," Senator Edwards continued, "is a dastardly slur on scores, aye, hundreds of minds just as genuinely American, just as patriotic, just as unaffected with dishonest motives or intentions and just as free of disguise and false pretense as his own."

"And in spite of Borah's political gesturing and play for intolerant support," the New Jersey senator continued, "I shall continue to exercise my right as a free and untrammelled American to voice praise of the good and not believe the charges, and tell them that they were not loyal to Norris and should leave his church."

There was no religious question involved, I don't care what religion they profess.

Civil War Veterans Keep Covenant With Their Dead

Stillwater, Minn., July 21.—(AP)—Three civil war veterans kept covenant with the dead today. The three, survivors of 37 members of the Last Man's club, former 42 years ago, met here for a banquet on the anniversary of the first battle of Bull Run, in which they all fought.

Early today an aged woman bustled about the dining hall of the Grand cafe, where the banquet is held each year, arranging the table for the reunion. She is the widow of "Cap'n" Sam Bloomer, who was color-bearer of "B" company. To her are entrusted the club's flag and documents, and the duty each year of preparing the banquet table.

At the center of the table was placed the traditional bottle of Burgundy given to the club 41 years ago, which the last two survivors will quaff some day as a toast to their departed comrades. The wine was intended for the last man, but the club, unwilling to face the ordeal of a solitary toast, last year amended the ritual so that two shall share it.

Another draped chair was added today to the group of 33 that surrounded the board a year ago. Emil Graf, of St. Cloud, Fla., dropped out of the ranks this year.

P. O. Hall, 87 years old, of Atwater, Minn., presides today by virtue of his seniority in years. His two comrades are C. M. Lockwood, Chas. Berlin, S. D., and John S. Goff, St. Paul, 84. These three are the last of "B" company, of the First Minnesota infantry, which fought nine battles in the south.

Police Head Says Evidence Shows That Chippis Went to Norris' Office Unaccompanied.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 21.—(AP)—A denial of the "mystery man" reiteration by Dr. J. Frank Norris, of his innocence and a statement by Mayor H. C. Meacham, defending his slain friend, today featured the investigation into the shooting of D. E. Chippis.

Chippis was killed last Saturday in the office of Dr. Norris in the First Baptist church when he went to protest against statements which Norris had made against Meacham.

As the grand jury continued its quest for a statement of the shooting, it was learned that apparently there was no truth in the report that Chippis had been accompanied by Dr. Norris' office by a companion who had been called "the mystery man" because he could be neither identified nor located.

No "Mystery Man."
"We have been working steadily on that angle of the case since the shooting," said Lee. "And we have found absolutely nothing to substantiate statements that Chippis had another man with him, who disappeared when Norris shot Chippis."

The grand jury hearing probably will end Friday, but no return was expected before Monday because of the Texas primaries Saturday.

Mayor Meacham said that Norris was a "publicity seeker" and that for this reason he had declined to make a statement because "it would only pour water on his wheel."

He said he now only wanted to make one statement in order to speak for a man who could not speak—his friend Chippis.

Chippis frequently remarked to me that he wanted to go down and tell Norris what he was doing, Meacham said.

Went Unarmed.
"After Chippis left the office, and I went to the ball game, I don't know of my own knowledge what happened, but I presume that Chippis, being alone and brooding somewhat over the attacks on me, concluded it was a good time to talk to Norris."

Meacham went there unarmed to discuss the matter. The crux of the Norris charges against Meacham is that he was using city funds to benefit his dental store. Norris charges that he was using the city funds to purchase of ground from a Catholic church to be used for a street opening. Norris charged from the pulpit and in his publication, "The Searchlight," that the street opening was designed to bring business to Meacham's store.

On the Sunday morning preceding the shooting of Chippis, Dr. Norris, during the regular church services, had five former employees of Meacham's store tell the circumstances of their discharge from the store.

Mayor Meacham explained that a member of Norris' supporters in his store was causing dissension in his organization by arguing with other employees.

Religion Not Involved.
"I had my manager, Mr. Haughey, ask these employees whether they believed Norris' charges against me, and if they did to discharge them. I instructed him to reason with those who did not believe the charges, and tell them that they were not loyal to Norris and should leave his church."

There was no religious question involved, I don't care what religion they profess.

The statement that there was a conspiracy to attack Norris and that we sent Chippis to do the work, was a fabrication, pure and simple. Why, if we had wanted to do that, we would have sent a gunman, and not an unarmed man."

In a telegram to Horace L. Day, chairman of the pulp supply committee of the First Baptist church of New York, Dr. Norris said: "There isn't a shadow of doubt as to complete vindication."

The New York church had invited Dr. Norris to preach there in August, but following the shooting the action of the church was quoted as stating that the church was considering recalling the invitation.

1,000 EMPLOYEES SLATED FOR JOBS

Department Will Be Servicing Cars of Southeast Within Sixty Days, Chicago Advises Say.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Chicago, Ill., July 21.—A great repair and remodeling shop, employing 1,000 men and representing an investment of more than a million dollars, will be established immediately at Atlanta, Ga., by the Pullman company, according to announcement here today by E. F. Carry, president of the Pullman company.

The shops, which will serve the entire southeastern territory of the company, will be housed in a huge plant formerly occupied by the United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry company, which discontinued operations in Atlanta recently. The tract of land which forms a site for the plant is 27 acres. While no official announcement was made concerning the purchase price it was estimated at around $250,000.

The Atlanta shops will be general repair headquarters for the southeastern division and will be equipped and ready to serve cars within 60 days, according to the announcement. The southeastern division includes Pullman cars as far south as New Orleans, as far north as Washington and to all Florida points.

The plant recently vacated by the United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry company will be remodeled throughout, according to the announcement. New equipment will be installed at a cost of thousands of dollars, while other improvements of the property and buildings will be made under plans which have already been prepared by Pullman company engineers.

Between 800 and 1,000 employees will be on the pay roll of the Atlanta Pullman shops. Many of these will be experts, selected from other Pullman shops, but, according to the announcement, a greater portion of laborers will be recruited from Atlanta ranks.

The Atlanta plant will be capable of rendering every repair service necessary to conditioning and remodeling of cars, the announcement said.

"We have bought the plant of the United States Cast Iron Pipe company in Atlanta and will immediately start to remodel and add to it to give the Pullman company an up-to-date shop for the repair and conditioning of cars," the announcement said.

Yes, The Weather Is Hot

We have no thought of getting up an argument with you about it being plenty warm, but we would recommend cool clothing, electric fans, electric refrigeration, a cool shower now and then, the charm of your porch or lawn, a spin in your auto, or a dip at one of the numerous bathing pools—and then forget the heat.

A famous medical man declares that people who keep thinking about the heat feel it more keenly than those who make themselves as comfortable as possible—and then get their minds on something else.

Anyway, we have to keep right on living, and that means we must make purchases with regularity, be it hot or cold. The Constitution comes to you in the coolest part of the day. Read The Constitution advertisements, make your purchases—then you are ready to go to one of the ice-cooled theaters in the afternoon, and another in the evening, if you like.

Insurance Firms Seek To Increase Industrial Rates

Representatives of 17 companies writing industrial insurance appeared before General William A. Wright, state comptroller, Wednesday and presented a petition asking that rates on industrial insurance be increased 22.5 per cent.

Judge Arthur Powell, attorney for the companies, declared the companies are losing money on this class of business at the present rates and said the general regulation of such companies is prejudicial to their interests. It was stated that these companies cannot continue to underwrite industrial risks in Georgia at the rates now charged.

Robert S. Parker, attorney for the Georgia Cotton Manufacturers' association, appeared to oppose the petition. The companies, under the Georgia law, pay the premiums on insurance of this kind carried by the employees.

General Wright reserved decision in the case until he can give the matter further study.

NINE MINERS DIE IN GAS EXPLOSION

Blocton, Ala., July 21.—(AP)—Bodies of nine victims of a local gas explosion in the Dixie mine of the Moffatt Coal company, in the northern part of Bibb county, were removed early this afternoon, while work of clearing away debris was virtually complete early tonight.

The victims of the blast, which occurred early today, were: Isaiah War, 45, foreman; J. E. Jones, 26, assistant foreman; H. F. Field, 32, all white, and six negroes, John Smith, Cleve Calhoun, Will Johnson, Will Sanders, James Carter and James Hitt.

According to reports reaching here early tonight, the blast was confined to one pocket of the mine and only those men in the immediate vicinity were endangered. The victims were members of an overtime shift.

Nearly 350 employees of the mine were ready to enter the pit shortly before the blast occurred, and aided in the work of removing bodies and clearing the mine of debris. Ventilation was restored in the pocket where the blast occurred within a few hours after the explosion, facilitating removal of bodies.

The rescue crew took seven bodies from the tunnel before noon, while two bodies, buried under fallen rock, were taken from the pit before mid-afternoon. The Dixie mine is located 48 miles south of Birmingham and seven miles southeast of Blocton. The Moffatt Coal company is an Illinois corporation of which J. D. Moffatt, of Sparta, Ill., is president. About 70 tons of coal, mined by a daylight shift of 350 men, is the daily production of the mine, it was reported by officials of the operating concern today.

Senator Borah heads a senate committee authorized to investigate alien property transactions.

The senate failed to provide funds for the inquiry, but he said he personally would guarantee the costs of hearing Miller if he would testify.

NEED OF MISSION FUNDS STRESSED

Greenville, S. C., July 21.—(AP)—The necessity of fostering the spirit of giving among church members as a means of continuing the foreign missions efficiently was discussed before the evangelist conference of the Baptist "renewal assembly" here today by J. T. Henderson, of Knoxville, Tenn., general secretary of the laymen's missionary movement of the Southern Baptist church.

Stating that Christian people were overlooking the chance to enrich their own lives spiritually when they neglected to contribute to the cause of spreading the gospel, Mr. Henderson in his address on "The Scriptural Method of Financing the Kingdom" said: "God's people are in possession of all the money that is necessary."

"There are four elements essential to success in promoting kingdom work," said Mr. Henderson. "First, the count; second, the work; third, the blessing of the Lord must attend the labor of His servants; fourth, there must be adequate funds to finance this enterprise."

"The first three elements are already provided in abundance," he said. "The fourth, however, is lacking. It is heard from all the lands of the earth; second, there is no lack of cultured and consecrated men and women to proclaim the message; third, the Lord has been blessing the work of His servants; in a marvelous way. The process of the kingdom, however, has been greatly hindered by the lack of adequate funds; this is the needed asset."

"God's people are in possession of all the money that is necessary; if they could be induced to contribute the funds it would not only carry spiritual riches throughout the earth, but would greatly enrich their own lives."

"The rank and file of Christian people should be taught that the making of their offerings on the Lord's day is a vital feature of worship. Worship is an expression of our homage, gratitude and love to the Lord; the bringing of our gifts into His sanctuary is perhaps the most substantial expression of homage, gratitude and love that we can make. We may not be able to sing with harmony, and our prayers may be heartless, but when we bring our hard-earned money and dedicate it to the Lord, our hearts go along with it. Where your treasure is there shall your heart be also."

"Christian people should be urged to give, therefore, with a two-fold motive: first, to provide abundant money to finance the enterprises of the kingdom that all the workers and their equipment may be provided; in the second place, these offerings are an effective means of enlistment and spiritual growth."

"If a church has 384 members there should be at least 384 people in connection with the worship of that church who present their offerings, as they are able, every Lord's day."

"The amount of these offerings is to be determined by the income of each contributor. Every Christian should bring at least a tithe into the storehouse upon the first day of the week."

"In order to reach this ideal, much time and effort should be devoted to the education of all the members in the scriptural teaching on this subject; the obligation of stewardship needs to be given constant and renewed emphasis. Following this educational work, every member of every church should be tactfully solicited to contribute every Lord's day as he is prospered. As indicated, this calls for a great deal of teaching and winsome solicitation. When this high standard is realized or even approached, there will be ample funds to meet the demands of the kingdom, and there will be a quickened spirituality in all the churches."

Col. Ned Green, Dry Agent, Faces Jury Investigation

San Francisco, July 21.—(AP)—Colonel Ned M. Green, federal prohibition administrator in northern California and Nevada, has been under investigation and sufficient evidence has been gathered to take his case before the federal grand jury, it was admitted today by U. S. Attorney George Hatfield following the issuance of 25 grand jury subpoenas.

An inquiry carried on under the direction of Ait O'Connell, head of the intelligence division of the internal revenue department, is declared to have developed charges against Colonel Green, including criminal misconduct in office, protection of bootleggers, padding of government expense accounts and being intoxicated in a public place. Several of Green's witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury which meets next Monday.

Colonel Green said tonight he welcomed the investigation.

"These charges are all a frame-up," he declared. "Rumors have been floating around for weeks embodying the very accusations now more formally made against me."

"I have been mentioned prominently by the federal prohibition enforcement forces, when he leaves office. The investigation, coming at this time, will so discredit me that I now can never get the post."

COURT IS ASKED TO BAR PASTOR

Lake Charles, La., July 21.—(AP)—A rule to show cause why Rev. George W. Clarke should not be restrained by preliminary injunction from occupying the pulpit of the First Baptist Church of Lake Charles, from officiating as the pastor thereof, and from maintaining possession of the property of the church was issued today. Court action was on petition of three plaintiffs, members of the church described as the pulpit committee of the church. Saturday, July 24, was set as the date for Mr. Clarke to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued.

The petition, a typewritten document of seven pages, set forth that the church at a regular business session July 7, by a vote of 73 to 45, passed a resolution "that the pastor's services be dispensed with immediately with full pay to August 1," and named the petitioners as a "pulpit committee" to arrange for someone to occupy the pulpit July 11.

The further claim was made that July 11, "contrary to the laws of the church and over the protest of the moderator, the pulpit committee and several members of the church, the dismissed pastor, George W. Clarke, and others, proceeded to attempt to transact business and other matters that should properly be determined only at the regular business meetings of the church and that at the said illegal meeting, the said George W. Clarke was reinstated as pastor."

The petitioners are William H. Haskell, F. A. Ford and W. H. Mangum, Jr.

HERRIOT CABINET PLEA FOR SUPPORT

Paris, July 21.—(AP)—The text of the ministerial declaration of the newly-formed Herriot cabinet, read today in the chamber of deputies, was as follows:

"The government constituted yesterday has concentrated its efforts upon the financial problem. Never has a situation been so clear and a decision so urgent. Immense difficulties are facing us, some of them requiring immediate solution, difficulties of which you must be informed so that you may take decision without delay.

"We deem that these difficulties, even the most pressing, must be met with agreement of parliament. We will not read a decree necessitating parliament. Our program is founded upon the conviction that this country must save itself.

"Intends To Pay Debts. "France intends to pay her debts, contracted in defense of liberty, with measure and under a form where she may be certain of being able to keep the undertakings subscribed. We must insist, however, upon absolute independence of France's action in all domains. At all events we refuse to increase the limit of the circulation of notes. Our aim is to stabilize the currency, but we insist that such effort must not be accomplished only with foreign credits.

"Foreign currency held outside of France by Frenchmen must be repatriated. For that purpose we will open an account in foreign currency in the Bank of France, preparing at last to return to a regime of liberty of capital by a new offer of amnesty, refusal of which will be followed by such severe penalties that no one may afford to ridicule it.

"We believe and proclaim that if the Bank of France must continue independent, its sinking fund must be autonomous and we are prepared to use its assets within the spirit and form of constitutional laws. But it is necessary, in order to counterbalance the sacrifices to which holders of French rentes (international bonds) may be subjected, to create a special tax on all assets which are not directly in the service of the public credit modalities. Such a tax will be arranged in such manner as to leave no opportunities for fraud on the part of taxpayers or abuse on the part of tax collectors.

"Must Liquidate Past. "We have reached a moment where the past must be liquidated. We ask you to follow us upon this course which is painful perhaps but must lead us to national salvation. As all nations who have achieved financial redemption, we wish to reduce the country's mode of living. Restrictions begin in the state services.

"We have for these extremely urgent tasks realized that a republican union, compatible with such divisions as are created by the voting method, is impossible to maintaining. Say im-

POINCARÉ CALLED TO JOIN CABINET

Elysee Palace, where he was succeeded by M. Doumergue, were made today when the man who played an aggressive part in this event fell with a disastrous crash from the pedestal to which the elections of 1924 lifted him.

Return of Millerand Seen. The reverse the radical leader met with today was all the more serious since it followed so quickly upon the heels of his triumph in the elections of last week. He had been made a member of the cabinet last week, and because it may mean the return of M. Millerand to power with a national union cabinet embracing all the former premier and presided over by M. Poincaré.

While the premier was pleading his case before the chamber, crowds gathered in front of the Palais Bourbon. They grew to serious proportions, and before the vote was announced at least 5,000 persons had massed in front of the chamber, along the Quai d'Orsay in the Rue Bourgoigne and the Boulevard Saint Germain. They shouted Herriot, and there was an occasional cry of: "On to Elysee."

It was a well-dressed orderly crowd, which obeyed the police but its presence caused considerable anxiety inside the chamber building.

It began to disperse when news came that the government had been overthrown, but many remained, and police reserves were summoned, in the fear that some of the deputies might meet with harsh treatment on leaving the chamber.

Herriot Presents Resignation. The Herriot ministry was defeated on the question of its declaration of policy. This dealt entirely with the salvation of the franc and the general financial situation. Immediately after the vote M. Herriot went to the Elysee Palace and presented the resignation of his ministry to President Doumergue.

Later M. Poincaré accepted the president's invitation to create a new ministry. It is believed that M. Briand will return to the foreign office, while M. Poincaré or M. Caillaux will take the ministry of finance.

There seemed to be little doubt when the lower house met this afternoon that the time for political maneuvering, around the financial question was ended. M. Herriot, who for two years has been a commanding figure in parliament, came to the government bench for the first time without a single greeting from the assembly. After enunciating the government's policy, Premier Herriot begged the house to take quick action. The finance minister, M. De Monzie, who had worked throughout the night on his financial program, then made his statement. He alluded to the small balance in the Bank of France and introduced a bill seeking authority for the government to turn over to the Bank of France the available balance of the $100,000,000 Morgan loan amounting to $100,000,000 over $25,000,000, or 1,200,000,000 francs.

"Should the chamber refuse to pass this bill," he said, "I myself will instruct the Bank of France to realize on the Morgan loan dollars in the open exchange market to meet the pressing needs of the treasury. I have the right to do this. Even if I have not, you may send me to the high court."

De Monzie's Position. M. De Monzie went on to say: "The government will not make the bill a question of confidence, because if authority is requested the minister would just the same exercise a right conferred by the agreement of 1924 concerning the Morgan loan in order to avoid closing the cash windows."

This statement created much excitement and was interpreted as meaning the "cash windows" where redemption of national defense bonds is made by the bank of the government's agent. M. De Monzie temporarily retains his post as head of the finance ministry for the purpose of appearing at a special session of parliament to force through his bill which was referred to the finance committee of the chamber.

POINCARÉ IS HAILED AS HOPE OF FRANCE.

BY HENRY WALKER. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) Paris, July 21.—Raymond Poincaré tonight accepted the mission to form a two-gun national union cabinet, which tonight was the only one of the kind for the shocking state of political cannibalism that left the almost bankrupt country without a government again tonight.

War grizzled and bent at 67, he climbed out of bed at midnight and drove up to Elysee Palace in an automobile, where he was greeted by the chief of the cabinet and named him as the logical man. At 7 o'clock tomorrow morning M. Poincaré will begin negotiations with the chiefs of all important political groups except the socialist and communists. He hopes to gather in an imposing array of leaders into a sturdy ministry stripped for action and with, perhaps, only six or seven members.

Balm to Country's Nerves. The old war chief's acceptance has brought a balm to the country's nerves, which came close to shattering tonight when M. Herriot, the third premier in three weeks, and the seventh in sixteen months, went down after a tormented existence of exactly 46 hours. The hostile chamber lasted to just three hours and one half tonight and then decided to strangle it without further ado. By a vote of 290 to 237, the deputies withheld the preliminary vote of confidence which M. Herriot and M. De Monzie promised to follow up 48 hours later with full projects. All they asked to do was to power to succor the famished treasury, which tonight is virtually empty, as treasuries go.

For the first time Paris lost its sangfroid at the news that another ministry had crashed.

As Herriot and his ministers went promptly to Elysee Palace to turn in their resignations to President Doumergue, they were met by a hostile crowd massed in the street in front of the chamber, crying: "Down with Herriot; shame on Herriot; shoot him."

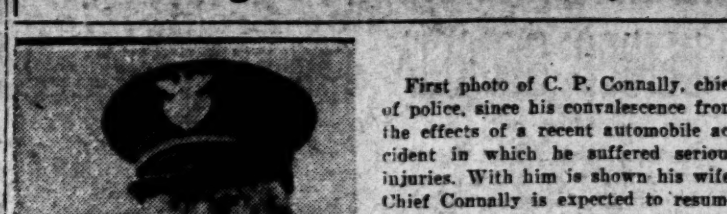

Nervous crowds rushed the banks all over Paris today in a frantic effort to cash in on national defense bonds which were due to mature tonight. The government was taken by the Herriot government, coupled with the disastrous fall of the franc, to render them either non-negotiable or worthless, or both.

It was these crowds which decided the fate of the hapless cabinet which went down tonight after a night's internal conflict and with knowledge that its fate was practically sealed.

HERRIOT IN TEARS AS HE MEETS DEFEAT. Paris, July 21.—Tears streamed down Edouard Herriot's cheeks as the defeated premier rode to the Elysee Palace tonight accompanied only by his faithful secretary.

The defeated premier already is being compared to the late President Woodrow Wilson as a popular idol

Recovering From Wreck Injuries

First photo of C. P. Connolly, chief of police, since his convalescence from the effects of a recent automobile accident in which he suffered serious injuries. With him is shown his wife, chief Connolly is expected to resume his duties at police headquarters in the next few days.

Two years ago, when he returned at the Gare Du Nord after signing the Dawes plan in London, Herriot was greeted by the wild acclaim of his countrymen. Tonight he passed out of a back door of the chamber of deputies, as the day of his political triumph and the latest and most tremendous financial peril to France was being heaped upon by many of those in the mob which lined the streets.

That Herriot is dead politically is admitted by all.

AMERICANS INSULTED BY MOBS IN FRANCE. Paris, July 21.—As thousands of hostile Frenchmen swarmed around the houses of parliament tonight following the Herriot cabinet's resignation, a sight-seeing automobile carrying many Americans crossed the Concord bridge and was sighted by some of the French demonstrators.

The automobile was soon surrounded by a hissing hooting crowd. Insults were hurled at the Americans and one of the demonstrators jumped on the running board and attempted to strike a tourist with his cane. He was arrested immediately.

Once the Americans and other sight-seers were out of sight, the mob centered its attention on communist deputies who were attempting to leave the chamber of deputies. Cane were swung at the head of Communist Deputy M. Contourier and another communist parliamentarian was chased to a subway where he found refuge.

In the scene of Paris the scene being enacted in the chamber had its reaction. Veritable riots were precipitated at department stores during the day by the news that the government had fallen. Goods were bought and piled into waiting automobiles.

Plans for a barbecue to be held at Buckhead, August 11, have been arranged by secret orders of Buckhead, the Buckhead Baptist church and the Sardinia M. E. church. Preparation to feed 5,000 persons will be made, according to announcement by J. W. Key, a member of the organization committee. Proceeds of the affair will be divided among the treasuries of the secret orders and the two churches to be used for building funds.

Speakers for the occasion include Captain J. P. Marchant, J. O. Wood, Mayor Walter A. Sims, Senator Walter F. George and others to be announced later.

desire to unload it on the government."

The Kess bill was explained by the statement as proposing to provide $100,000,000 to be loaned to farms' association, "with or without security" and "with a reasonable expectation that loans would be repaid."

"A more perfect campaign fund could not be devised with the Pennsylvania scandals in mind," Mr. McKellar asserted.

Referring to the Boulder dam project, the statement declared that if the president would take the same position about it as Muscle Shoals, "these $200,000,000 would be spent for the western power interests."

The senator made reference in his statement to what he termed a defense on the part of the president to this year's governmental extravagance and asserted that actual government expenses have increased each year during the present administration and takes issue with assertions of economy in connection with various measures undertaken by the administration, which, he declared, "will go down in history as the most extravagant and costly peace time administration within the history of our government."

"The president again and still harps upon the cost of the soldiers' bonus and the cost of the federal aid to roads," Senator McKellar said.

"The country and the congress have overruled him on both proposals, and will continue to do so. The soldiers are going to be cared for and roads built, the president to the contrary, notwithstanding. Both items could be easily paid if we but had an economical federal government instead of a wasteful and extravagant administration."

Revision May Be Necessary. The debt funding agreement was dated June 15 and provided that during the first year, "the time that France should pay $30,000,000, if ratification is delayed for any material length of time as now seems probable, it may be necessary to revise some of the schedules so that France will be able to meet the accruing interest without undue strain."

As to the personal encounters in Paris during the last 24 hours, there is some feeling here that possibly exuberant Americans there have not been entirely blameless. Frenchmen in their present hysterical mood are easily aggravated beyond restraint and it is felt here that Americans abroad should at this time display extreme forbearance and tact.

The attitude here toward these encounters is reflected in an editorial in the Washington Star today:

"The fact that millions of American dollars are pouring into France and other countries in Europe from the pockets of American travelers gives the latter no privilege. They are going at a particularly difficult time and they should comport themselves with the most circumspect regard for the sensitiveness of a people that is feeling especially critical of and even hostile toward Americans."

"This incident will pass, probably without any unfavorable results. It should be a warning, however, of the extreme delicacy of the relations between the two nations. There is every reason for them to be warm and sincere friends and the hope of all Americans is that the present breach of manners will soon be followed by manifestations on both sides of cordial regard and confidence."

president and Secretary Mellon "without any request on the part of the German government that the American government should pay these claims and without the slightest obligation on the American government's part to pay them." ## Speak - Easies Girl Who Failed Outnumber To Wed Thaw, Old Saloons Appeals for Aid

New York, July 21.—(AP)—There are more "speak-easies" in New York city than there were licensed saloons in the whole state before prohibition, according to an estimate of the local prohibition administrator.

Chester P. Mills, federal prohibition administrator, placed the number of "speak-easies" at 15,000. Records for 1918 compiled by Excise Commissioner Herbert W. Sisson, show that only 13,083 licenses for saloons were issued for the whole state that year.

The 15,000 "speak-easies" are more than double the number of licensed saloons in the five boroughs in 1918, when only 6,866 licenses were granted.

Winchester, Va., July 21.—(AP)—Miss Forest Hope Walla, the 18-year-old Los Angeles, Cal., girl who claims Harry K. Thaw promised to marry her if she came to his country estate, "Kenilworth," near here, sat disconsolately in a tent throughout today awaiting an answer to the latest telegram sent to Thaw last night.

The answer had not arrived tonight. Thaw was reported at the Belmont hotel, New York, and the girl wired him she was broken hearted and begged him to send her an automobile and sufficient money to take her, her mother and brother back to California, police said she told them today.

The Walls arrived here Saturday virtually without funds in a battered flivver.

SCHOOL BODY MEETS TODAY ON BOND ISSUE

An outline of the second million dollars available of the $8,000,000 city bond issue, for the Atlanta school system will be made at 4 o'clock this afternoon when the contact committee meets in executive session at the Biltmore hotel.

According to members of the commission, this money will be available by January 1, 1937, and the contact committee expects to complete plans at once. The first group of expenditures was ratified by the board of education at an adjourned meeting last Friday.

While no indications of the nature of the plans has been given, it is expected the committee will recommend one of the projects the erection of a semi-portable building at the Candler Park school. This improvement was included in the first list but upon recommendation of Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, this was dropped.

Following action of the committee at today's meeting, the outline will go to the board of education for ratification. This may be presented at the adjourned meeting next Tuesday. If sanctioned by the board of education, the measure will go to city council and Mayor Walter A. Sims for final action and be referred back to the contact committee.

Members of the contact committee from the board of education are: Dr. R. M. Subanks, president of the board of education; W. W. Gaines, W. C. State and J. W. Maddox. Representatives on the committee from the bond commission are: Mrs. R. K. Rambo, W. L. Hancock, W. A. Varnoy and J. P. Wall.

Science Says Glands Are Responsible for Health and Strength

Activity of certain glands is responsible for the strength, courage, fighting power and nerve force of men, is the latest opinion of a noted scientist who has gone so far as to analyze and classify the various types of ring favorites and famous fighters of history, and shows that such men as George Dixon, Bat Nelson, Jack Dempsey and Napoleon were possessed of unusually active glands.

It is the function of the glands to pour into the blood their vitalizing secretions which stimulate vitality and energizing force.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. At all Jacobs' drug stores and all leading druggists.—(adv.)

ACTRESS TO GET HEARING TUESDAY IN JEWEL SEIZURE

New York, July 21.—(AP)—The nationality of the jewels taken by customs officers from Elaine Janis, actress, and her mother on her return from Europe is to be determined next Tuesday.

On that day Miss Janis and her mother are to appear before Philip Elling, collector of the port of New York, and testify as to the origin of the jewels. She had previously been told to explain the source of the jewels to a treasury agent.

Miss Janis and her mother arrived Tuesday on the Paris. She said her jewels, which she called trinkets, were insured for $30,000. Customs officers thought they were worth $50,000.

Ministerial Body At Macon Plans Drive Against Whisky Traffic

Macon, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—Thoroughly aroused by exposures of the great extent of the whisky traffic in Macon and Bibb county all ministers of city churches met today and planned for a monster rally to be held for law enforcement, all Protestant denominations combining for a sweeping offensive against whisky. Their motto will be "Drive the bootleggers out of Macon and the whisky dealers out of the county."

A special committee fixed the details for the law enforcement rally, which will be held in the municipal auditorium next Sunday evening. It will be the opening barrage of an organized campaign against the traffic, with every member of the Macon ministerial association cooperating. Dr. Walter Anthony, pastor of the Mulberry Street Methodist church and president of the association, is chairman of the committee that is to devise further plans.

The whisky situation in the county was exposed, in some measure, by the investigation of sheriff's forces into the double murder at Camp Wheeler, July 10, when Miss Hilda Smith and her fiancé, E. W. Wilson, were slain at a whisky transfer point.

State Sanitarium Needs Fire Escapes, Says Mayor J. H. Ennis

Macon, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—In a letter to Mayor Wallace Miller, of this city, today, Mayor J. H. Ennis, of Milledgeville, shows his appreciation for the assistance offered by Macon in sending two fire companies to Milledgeville Sunday when the state sanitarium was on fire.

Incidentally the Milledgeville mayor calls attention to the fact that there are no fire escapes in the sanitarium buildings in which "5,000 souls are caged," and he says he has been trying to get these fire escapes for years.

"It is quite a serious matter to think of nearly 5,000 souls caged in those buildings and a fire alarm sounded, without even a fire escape. I have been working for the legislature for years trying to get appropriations for fire escapes, but the wise ones feel that it is not necessary and will not realize their importance until it is too late."

Interstate Commerce Body To Get Appeal From Gainesville Road

Augusta, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—United States Judge William C. Clegg, following a hearing in federal district court here today, decided to let the Gainesville-Milledgeville railroad situation remain in status quo for the time being so that application might be made to the interstate commerce commission for a change in the order of sale so that the mileage in question might be continued in operation.

The proposition to sell the railroad to the Seaboard Air Line has been approved by the interstate commerce commission with the provision that the line between Belmont and Monroe, 25 or 30 miles in length, be junked, as it parallels the Seaboard main line for that distance.

A large delegation of citizens from Athens and that section were in attendance at the hearing and asked that the order be rescinded.

EARL L. PRICE DIES AT GRIFFIN HOSPITAL

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from his home with the Rev. J. J. Mize officiating. Interment was in Berea cemetery at Hampton.

NEW TRIAL MOTION DENIED GEORGIA

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 21.—(AP)—Motion for new trial in the case of the state of Georgia against the city of Chattanooga, known as the Broad Street extension case, by which the city is attempting to condemn a right of way through the Western & Atlantic railroad yards for street purposes, was overruled by Judge Oscar Yarnell, of the circuit court, today.

The case was heard a week ago, the court holding the city had a right to condemn the land involved and the value appraised by the jury of view was sufficient. General W. L. Frierson, local counsel for the state of Georgia, insisted that the valuation of the strip of land was inadequate, but the court held otherwise. General Frierson then announced an appeal to the supreme court.

Work on opening the streets was resumed today under an agreement between the city and Georgia that the latter would allow the case to proceed through the courts without applying for intervention of a supersedeas.

ANOTHER PHASE OF LEGAL CONTEST

Denial of the state of Georgia's application for rehearing in its litigation with the city of Chattanooga over extension of Broad and Eleventh streets over state property is simply another phase of the legal proceedings in the case, and this decision does not put an end to the legal part of the question, it was learned at the capitol Wednesday.

Although the Western & Atlantic commission and the city of Chattanooga Tuesday reached an agreement under which the city could proceed with the work of opening the streets, the legal phases of the case are to be finished in the courts. Under the agreement the city of Chattanooga will protect the property, rights of the state of Georgia during the term of the lease of the property to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad.

Attorney General George M. Napier, who has handled the litigation, was not in Atlanta Wednesday, but he stated early in the week that the state will have the power to appeal the decision rendered Wednesday in Chattanooga by Judge Oscar Yarnell, of the Hamilton circuit court.

As far as the work of opening the streets is concerned, that is expected to be finished under terms of the agreement reached Tuesday.

G. and St. L. railway, predicted a remarkable development for Atlanta in the next few years, in an address at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club held Tuesday at Hotel Ansley. ## Secret Payroll For Prohibition Agents Revealed

Washington, July 21.—Another "secret" payroll has been discovered here, that for special agents under Walter Green, chief investigator for the prohibition unit.

Much speculation was aroused here by the testimony in New York of A. Bruce Bielaski, one of Green's special agents, who said that he received a salary of $1,100 a month. Several special agents are employed, and the question was raised as to whether they receive similarly high remuneration which is more than the salary of Lincoln C. Andrews, dry enforcement chief, or Commissioner Blair of the internal revenue bureau, who receive $10,000 a year, or any other prohibition official.

Such salaries are prohibited by act of congress for dry agents under the prohibition unit.

Investigation developed that these men are carried on the payroll of the department of justice, not on the prohibition unit payroll.

Officials of the department of justice declined to reveal what the special agents are paid, as did Green and prohibition Commissioner Jones. Whether Bielaski is now on the payroll of the justice department officials said they did not know. He was head of the department's investigation bureau during the war.

It was predicted that members of congress, especially some of the "wet," would have something to say of the "secret" payroll at the next session.

JAPAN SUPPRESSES NAGANO RIOT NEWS

(Copyright, 1932, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Tokio, July 21.—All Nagano riot news has been suppressed, this morning's papers being silent as to the outbreaks. Authorities fear a spread of the movement as there are signs of unrest in many sections, evidenced in sectional fighting over water rights and numerous strikes, accompanied by violence.

Authorities have decided to suspend arrests in Nagano until the excitement subsides, lest more widespread trouble be caused. Troops will not be used, except as a last resort.

FLETCHER OPPOSES SALE OF U. S. SHIPS

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Senator Fletcher, democrat, Florida, said today he questioned the advisability of the proposed sale of the American merchant line and United States line vessels now operated by the shipping board.

He said that, although he had not protested to the board, the sale in his opinion would prove another step toward the reduction of tonnage flying the American flag. A guarantee that for five years from date of sale the vessel must operate under the American flag, he asserted, is of but little consequence, as that period is insignificant in the life of a corporation.

It was the intention of congress, he continued, to provide for establishment of an American merchant marine, but the board apparently interprets the law as providing for immediate sale of all government-operated lines.

Authentic Styles from St. Louis

A Message to Retail Merchants:

THE St. Louis wholesale market has become nationally known as a dominant style merchandise center. The expert designers of its wholesale houses keep in constant touch with the fashion marts of the world, and are among the leaders in style creations. Their styles are authentic.

Merchants throughout the Middle West, South and Southwest have found that it is unnecessary to go to New York to keep pace with prevailing styles. They buy style merchandise in St. Louis, and it is delivered almost overnight. This saves time for you, and places the goods on display in your store quickly as a salable asset.

Successful retailing today is based largely upon quick "turnover" and keeping your shelves clear of out-of-date stocks. The ever changing styles make it necessary to buy smaller orders more frequently so that stocks can be turned over. Quick delivery is a vital factor in style turnover and replenishing stocks to meet changing conditions.

St. Louis wholesale houses carry the largest open stocks of any market in the country, ready for immediate delivery. You can see your order made up as you make your selections. St. Louis' Package Car System—a freight service at almost express speed—assures quick delivery.

WARTHEN BANK CASE

Louisville, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—Jefferson county superior court convened here Monday morning in extra session, with Judge R. N. Hardeman presiding. The Warthen bank case, transferred to this county from Washington, was postponed again because of the sickness of an important witness.

A verdict of voluntary manslaughter was returned against Russell Salter, a negro, charged with killing another negro at Bartow some weeks ago. Salter, who is crippled, drew a sentence of from 5 to 20 years in the penitentiary.

Any Skin Trouble Whatever.

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

Go to Jacobs' Pharmacy Co. or any other good drug store today and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but one bottle we know will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered the one and only sure way to restore your skin to its normal healthy condition.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.—(adv.)

Former Guards
Deny Warden
Killed Negroes

Albemarle, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—More testimony was introduced by the defense today in the trial of Nevie C. Cranford, former convict boss on trail for murder, in refutation of charges by prosecution witnesses that he was implicated in the death of six convicts.

A. T. Freeman, of High Point, a former guard, denied that John Quincy Leake died after being beaten and struck with a heavy root. He said the convict died of natural causes.

"Mr. Cranford did not abuse John Leake," he testified.

J. L. Stoke, another guard, said Carl Meadows died of natural causes and that Cranford gave him money so he could spend his last hours with relatives.

For a moment today the testimony touched on the death of James Terry and James Howell, the two convicts for whose death Cranford is on trial.

Lon Shaw, a former guard, declared he left camp on August 5, 1918, and that the two negroes were in excellent health at that time. They were supposed to have died that night.

Shaw denied that Cranford whipped them.

MISS RUTH TIMMONS

MAIL REROUTING
SOLUTION SOUGHT
LABOR COMMITTEE
PICKS CANDIDATES

Nashville, Tenn., July 21.—Officials of the United States railway mail service from several cities here today assembling data in investigations looking to improving the mail service south between Chicago and Jacksonville, Fla., will continue their stay through tomorrow. They will then probably visit Atlanta and Jacksonville.

A report later will be submitted to Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general at Washington, said Francis E. Smith, assistant superintendent of the railway mail service, from Washington.

No statement was forthcoming relative to their investigations south in service improvement over the routes of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway. The mail representatives conferred late today with S. H. Thach, chief clerk of the railway mail service at Nashville.

Others here are J. L. Davis, Philadelphia; E. A. Mallory, Chicago; Fred W. Rooney, Birmingham; T. W. Naylor, Chattanooga, and H. J. Greaves, Atlanta.

Recent rerouting of mails through Cincinnati and their diversion from the regular established channels through Nashville, Evansville, St. Louis and Chicago was discussed.

The major portion of this mail has been ordered returned through these gateways and the service by railway postal clerks has been recently changed and the mail car placed in the Dixie Limited, leaving Nashville at 2:30 p. m. and arriving in St. Louis at 1:40 p. m., reaching Chicago via the C. & E. L. at 4:10 p. m., with distribution of mails over the entire route. These trains between Nashville and Atlanta carry what is known as "closed pouch."

This missing link in the chain is the principal subject of the conference, the clerks' organization contending that the Dixie Limited should be manned by distributors, as before the war, when these trains were discontinued, and thus give a thorough transcontinental route from Miami, Fla., to all points on the Pacific coast.

This train leaves Atlanta at 6:40 p. m., carrying such mails as can be dispatched without railway postal clerks, registered mail either being sent through Cincinnati or held for a later dispatch. The southbound train leaves Nashville at 12:30 a. m., arriving in Atlanta at 8 a. m., the contention of the clerks being that mails for Georgia, South Carolina and Florida should be distributed en route and advance all south Georgia and Florida points, while a large number of offices in South Carolina could be dispatched by the way of Savannah and connections made with the Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line trains north.

With mail service established in the Dixie Limited, Nashville connection will be made at Chattanooga for all of the eastern portion of the state. Officials of the N. C. & St. L., L. & N. and other interested railroads recently held a conference in Washington regarding the scheduled trains, and it is likely that even an improved service will be placed in effect in the near future.

PERSHING NAMED FOR COMMANDER OF LEGION POSTS

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—General Pershing will be placed in nomination for national commander of the American Legion at the convention of the organization in Philadelphia in October.

The George Washington Post No. 1 of the legion has voted unanimously to propose the commander of the American armies in France for the place. It was decided that it would be peculiarly fitting for him again to lead the veterans of the world war when they go to Paris for their convention in 1927.

High legion officials have discussed the question informally with General Pershing but so far as known he has given them no definite indication of his position as to accepting the honor. He made it clear, however, that he would enter no contest for the place.

General Pershing is now in Europe in connection with his duties as president of the American battle monuments commission.

AMERICAN GIRLS NOT HOME-LOVING,
SAYS COUNTESS

New York, July 21.—(AP)—American women are not home-loving, in the opinion of Countess Juan De Guell, who is waiting to the queen of Spain who sailed for home today on the liner Manuel Armas, accompanied by her daughter, Carmen, and her son, Juan, Jr.

The countess said she left this country with the impression that American men are ideal and that she would be willing to have her daughter marry an American man.

"But"—she did not want her son to marry an American woman, "because they are not home-loving."

She explained that she found that American women were too fond of being away from the home and apparently were not fond of the quiet home life. Nevertheless, she found the women beautiful.

ASKS AID ON MAILS*Postmaster Requests Addresses Be in Full.

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Lack of street and number addresses on letters has become such a drag on the postal service that Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett has begun a general campaign to educate the business public in the necessity of giving complete addresses on all letters.

Postmasters have been requested to take up the subject with advertisers in their cities with a view to having a complete address appear in all advertisements in newspapers and magazines.

LOUISVILLE UNVEILS HISTORICAL TABLET

Louisville, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—Formal dedication and unveiling of the monument to commemorate the site of the first capitol building of Georgia and the fact of the burning of the Yazoo fraud act took place here Tuesday afternoon. The speaker of the occasion was Warren Grice, of Macon, who was introduced to a large audience of Jefferson county citizens, by J. R. Phillips.

Mr. Grice reviewed much of the early history of Georgia, a state, and showed that much of the history of the state was made in and about Louisville.

On behalf of the John B. Gordon chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, of Louisville, the monument was turned over to the city of Louisville and Jefferson county, by R. G. Price, of Louisville, Miss India Clark, a direct descendant of Jared Irwin, one-time governor of Georgia, unveiled the monument that was covered with a huge United States flag.

The monument bears this inscription: "To commemorate the site of the first permanent capitol of Georgia built in 1795, and before whose doors the Yazoo fraud act was burned with fire drawn from heaven February 15, 1796."

SOUTHERN TO FILL GAP IN ELECTRIC SYSTEM

Installation of electric automatic signals has been started by the Southern Railway system on 72 miles of track between Meridian and New Orleans, which, when completed, will give the Southern continuous automatic electric signal protection on the line between Cincinnati and New Orleans, 836 miles, and on the line between Washington and New Orleans, 1,160 miles, Vice President R. B. Pegram announced Wednesday.

The gaps in the signal system between Meridian and New Orleans, which are now to be filled, are between Meridian and Ellisville, 64 miles, and between Bostabouche and Hattiesburg, eight miles. The installation will require 135 three-position upper quadrant signals, the same type now in use on the other portions of the Cincinnati-New Orleans line.

During 1934 the Southern installed the three-position signals on 215 miles of track between Cincinnati and New Orleans, releasing signals of other types.

Dempsey To Battle Tunney in Chicago Stadium

Rickard Announces Date for Title Bout Following Conference

New York Promoter Decides on Chicago After Gotham Fight Board Refuses to Reconsider His Offer. To Face Board Today.

Chicago, July 21.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight boxing champion, will defend his title against Gene Tunney in Chicago in September, in a ten-round decision bout, Tex Rickard, New York promoter, announced tonight after three days of conference here.

The date, first announced by Rickard as Saturday afternoon, September 11, will be either September 11 or a week later, September 18, Rickard said, subject to wishes of the principals. Rickard preferred the earlier date, but Gene Normile, here to represent Dempsey, asked that the fighters be permitted to meet on the later date they preferred. The date will be chosen, Rickard said, by tomorrow, when he plans to go before the Illinois boxing commission, name the Chicago group in whose name he is offering the bout, and ask that body to approve the match.

Awaits Announcement. Soldiers' field, Chicago's municipal stadium in Grant park, and just across Michigan boulevard from the business district, is expected to be the location of the fight, though Rickard said that so must await definite announcement tomorrow. The principals will divide 55 percent of the gate receipts, with an option on cash compensation, Rickard said. He preferred not to announce a proportion of the division. Normile, Dempsey's manager and spokesman, expressed gratification at the arrangement, and announced that as soon as the boxing commission ap-

Sandersville Nine Beats Washington

Washington, Ga., July 21.—(Special)—The unbeaten Sandersville baseball team added a new star to their crown by taking Washington's measure on the local grounds this afternoon 4 to 2. Today's defeat was the first the local team has suffered this season and brought out the season's largest crowd of fans from Wilkes and adjoining counties. Tomorrow a double-header will be played between Sandersville and Washington at Sandersville with big Tom Nash on the mound for Washington in the first game.

Bunching their hits in the fourth inning netted the visitors three runs, which could not be overcome, despite a rally by the locals in the ninth. "Phoney" Smith, for Sandersville, at bat and in the field, was the outstanding star.

The score: R. H. E.
Washington.....2 11 2
Sandersville.....4 9 0
Batteries: Washington, Florida and New; Sandersville, Royston and Parks.

Railroad Tossers Defeat Burnwell

Cedartown, Ga., July 21.—(Special)—Central of Georgia shops defeated Burnwell here today, 12 to 1. Burnwell's only tally came in the ninth by a home run off Craven's bat. Davis, pitching for Central of Georgia, held the visitors to four hits, striking out ten men, while Central of Georgia got 14 hits off Burnwell and Roberson. Wyatt and Davis getting circuit clouts. Satterfield, Knowles, Thompson and Wyatt led the home club's attack.

will be taken under the law to prevent his entering the ring against anybody else.

TUNNEY RECEIVES NEWS OF BOUT WITH JOY

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Gene Tunney, challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, received the news that Tex Rickard has definitely selected Chicago as the site for his title match with Jack Dempsey, September 11, with mingled joy and disappointment.

"Great!" says Tunney. "That's just great!" he said. "I have been pulling for Chicago all along, because I would rather fight where there is no political interference. But at the same time I am disappointed that I can't fight for the title in my own home town."

Tunney said he was informed by his manager, Billy Gibson, earlier in the day that he would have to train in the vicinity of Chicago at least six weeks before the fight.

Will Do Real Training. "I will remain here two more weeks," he said, "then I'll hit the Wisconsin woods, five or six hours out of Chicago. You know I don't care for this 25 and 50-cent training gear. I'm out to win the title and I want to train where I will get the most out of it physically, not financially."

"I weighed 191 this morning, but I expect to scale about 187½ for the fight."

Tunney is engaging in light work at Summit, N. J., where he will remain until Rickard orders him west to establish his training camp.

TWO BIG FINES ON BALL CLUBS ARE LIFTED

Montgomery, Ala., July 21.—(AP)—The $500 fine imposed on the Savannah club of the Southeastern league for alleged violation of the player limit rule has been suspended pending an appeal to the board of directors. This announcement was made today by President Cliff Green. He added that no meeting of the board of directors has been called by himself and that he did not expect to call such a meeting.

President Green said the $500 fine is the league penalty for such a violation. Savannah, he said, exceeded the player limit of 14 men in games with Columbus on July 14 and 15. The two games won by the Savannah club on those dates have been awarded to the league leading Foxes by scores of 9 to 0.

Orlando, Fla., July 21.—(AP)—The fine and suspension placed upon Manager Manush of the Sarasota club of the Florida State league as a result of the forfeiture of a game to Sanford last Saturday was lifted today by J. B. Asher, president of the league. The president's action followed recommendation of Umpire Ery, who advised that he believed that Manush did not intend to attack him when he jumped on the running board of the umpire's car after the game.

President Asher also took further official action by throwing the game out of the records and ordering it to be replaced a part of a doubleheader on September 22. Sanford gets credit for one less victory and Sarasota for one less defeat with one less defeat.

Black Cracker Game Rained Out

Rain Wednesday halted the final game with the Memphis colored team and the Atlanta Black Crackers at Spiller field.

Today the Black Crackers will cross bats with the league leading New Orleans club. The local club is determined to put a crimp in the winning streak of the league leaders. They have won seven straight games. The admission price has been reduced to allow more fans to see the Atlanta colored team play, and a large crowd is expected to see the game.

Chick Evans, Reece Carter and Others Lose First Matches in Opening of Meet—Johnston Is Favored To Reach Top.

White Bear Lake, Minn., July 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Putters figured prominently in the defeat of several favorites in the opening round of the western amateur golf tournament over the White Bear Yacht club course today.

Eliminations included Reece Carter, of Oklahoma City, 1925 champion; Harrison R. ("Jimmy") Johnston, St. Paul, medalist; Chick Evans, of Chicago, and Dr. O. F. Willing, of Portland, Oregon.

Meeting tomorrow in the 36-hole quarter final matches, as the result of today's victory in two 18-hole rounds, will be: E. E. Stein, Seattle, and Arthur Tveraa, Minneapolis; William Medart, St. Louis, and Rudy Knepper, Chicago; Frank Dolp, Portland, Oregon, and Chuck H. Hunter, Tacoma, Wash.; Kenneth Hiest, Chicago, and James C. Ward, Kansas City.

Johnston, whose brilliant 141 in the qualifying round made him a favorite for the title, lost control of his putter on the decisive greens and he lost to Dolp, one up, in an extra hole.

Evans fell a victim to the deadly putting of 19-year-old Tveraa, Minneapolis district champion, one up, after the youth had eliminated another favorite, Eldridge Robinson, of Chicago, in the morning round. Eddie Held, St. Louis, trans-Mississippi champion, was Knepper's victim in the afternoon round, but he required an extra hole on which Held dubbed his approach and took an extra stroke.

Russell Martin, Chicago, runner-up last year, was defeated by Knepper, three and one, and Densmore Shute, Huntington, W. Va., second qualifier, was dropped by Held, one up.

Dexter Cummings, Chicago, former national intercollegiate champion, was eliminated by James Manion, St. Louis, and the latter fell before Elbert in the afternoon, three and two.

Willing Defeated. Dr. Willing, who "rained" golfing fame by his work with the Walker cup team three years ago, came through the morning round by defeating Lester J. Bolander, Minneapolis, Minn., open links champion, but then was eliminated by Ward, three and two.

Medart won from A. L. Miller, Chicago, one up, in an extra hole match after winning in the morning, two up from Douglas Casey, of Chicago, in the morning round.

R. S. Juran, Minneapolis, was Hunter's afternoon victim, 4 and 3, after Hunter had won from Jack Wealand, of Seattle, in the morning. Juran won from Billy Sixty, Milwaukee.

Commander William J. Wheeler, of coast guard headquarters, tonight announced that at least 20 coast guards, including several officers, had been suspended after confessing that they accepted from $200 to $1,000 apiece for allowing liquor to land at Long Beach, near Barnegat inlet. Among those suspended was one captain who admitted he transported eight cases of whisky across Barnegat bay in a coast guard boat. Wheeler said in one instance the entire complement of a station was suspended and replacements made by drawing on others.

Sims Demands Joint Debate With Upshaw; Latter States Steele Must Be Included

De Kalb Candidate for Congress To Open Headquarters in Kimball House Next Monday.

Activities in the fifth district congressional race showed marked increase Wednesday, when statements were issued by Mayor Walter A. Sims and W. D. Upshaw, candidates, and William Schley Howard, campaign manager for L. J. Steele.

Mayor Sims challenged Congressman Upshaw to meet him in joint debate and later meet Mr. Steele in a debate on issues of the campaign.

Mr. Upshaw said, in substance, that while he is willing to meet both candidates in joint debate, he does not feel obligated to single out either as his "chief opponent."

Announcement of the opening next Monday of headquarters for Mr. Steele at the Kimball house was given in the statement by Mr. Howard.

He also announced that the campaign is progressing "most satisfactorily" for Mr. Steele.

Statement of Sims.

The statement by Mayor Sims follows: "I have stated that I am not prepared to speak for the third man in the race, but so far as I am concerned, I am ready to meet Mr. Upshaw and discuss the issues in this campaign and his record, but Mr. Upshaw wants me to meet him and his man, Steele, too. I want to meet one at a time. When I am through with Mr. Upshaw, if Mr. Steele wants any of the same kind of stuff, then I will wait on him."

Mr. Upshaw in my speech at Douglasville July 17 to name one constructive measure that he had secured the passage of during the eight years he has been in Congress. I want to renew that question at this time. Let him name one constructive measure he has fostered in the eight years of his administration, and tell the people of this district how it has helped them."

Calls For Relief Program.

"Let Mr. Upshaw make a statement of how he proposes to help the farmers and why he hasn't done so in the past eight years—he has been in office. Give your plan, Mr. Upshaw, of relief."

"The only thing thus far Mr. Upshaw has done was to get a post-office branch in the Arcade and have the negro patients removed from United States base hospital No. 48. What legislation was necessary to have these negroes removed and where is a copy of the measure you had adopted by Congress? Why did you permit the negro patients to ever be placed in the hospital, and why did you let them stay there so long?"

"Mr. Upshaw, you know that your residence in Georgia is on the same principle as a person that comes here to secure a divorce. They are here for that purpose only and this is true with you. You simply claim your residence in Georgia in name only for the purpose of representing the fifth district."

trict, and when you are defeated, you won't claim Atlanta for your residence but you will go where your family lives and where they have their home."

"Mr. Upshaw claims that he shouldn't have any opposition. He has been claiming this every time. Wonder why he didn't adhere to this when Governor Net Harris was running for a second term and was an old Confederate veteran and the last one to ever ask to be governor of Georgia? The trouble with Mr. Upshaw is that he talks one way with one crowd and another way with another. If he will meet me on the stump, we can probably beat him up and get him to state his position on some matters."

Says Claim Is False.

"He told the Atlanta Federation of Trades that he did not vote on the child labor law because he was paired. Mr. Upshaw was not paired. He knew when he made the statement he was not paired. Let him state why he didn't vote for the men in overalls as he puts it in his advertisements."

"I have arranged four speeches in the district. As soon as these have been delivered, I shall be glad to meet Mr. Upshaw any place he says, but as for the other candidates, I can't speak for him. In fact, I don't propose to meet two at one time. I will meet one at a time. I don't think it would be fair for me to meet the two of them at the same time."

"I shall speak next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Lithonia, at which time I shall ask some more questions which the people of the district would like for Mr. Upshaw to answer, among which will be: Why did he advocate, in a speech on the floor of Congress, giving half of the debt the owes America?"

Upshaw's Position.

The text of Mr. Upshaw's statement is as follows: "My position on the question of joint debate with my opponents is the only one which is demanded by the logic and dignity of the situation."

"In the presence of about 100 citizens at the meeting of the Ormeau Improvement club in the Burns club pavilion, I stated in the presence of my two opponents that I would be glad to meet them in a discussion of issues involved in the campaign. When Mr. Sims came to me immediately after my speech and said, 'I challenge you to meet me in debate at the auditorium,' answered, 'Bring Mr. Steele and I will be delighted to accept.' Mr. Sims has no right to try to arrogate to himself the position of being my chief opponent."

"There are three candidates in the race and I hope that Mr. Sims will show his good sense and be ready to meet both of my opponents at any time and arrange for the kind of discussion, proposed in the Burns club pavilion."

Steele Headquarters.

The following statement was made by Mr. Howard:

"We shall open headquarters for Mr. Steele in the Kimball next Monday morning. They are here for that purpose only and this is true with you. You simply claim your residence in Georgia in name only for the purpose of representing the fifth district."

Steele has proven himself to be the type of man the people are demanding to represent them in Congress. The people in the country counties are rallying to the support of Mr. Steele, and splendid reports are coming to me from all parts of the district.

Tybee Soldiers Plan Sham Battle

Savannah, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—Rounding out the schedule for a summer encampment, the 122d infantry expects to bring the two weeks of outdoor life on Tybee to a close this week with special activities in which they will put to practical application in one big day of activity everything that has been taught.

On Friday of this week a sham battle will be staged during the morning. This will be a big event and every company in the infantry will take part. The picture of 1,000 men going into action will give a general idea of what the government does for the men in the C. M. T. C. camps during each summer.

The intelligence division is still in the process of mapping out the south end of Tybee island and it is expected that in a few days a map will be finished that will be used by the infantry. This map is to be enlarged and forwarded with the regular report to Washington.

The machine company held its regular schedule yesterday with practice on the beach, using ammunition. Practice was held on the A. & B. targets and the machine gun company averaged 80 per cent, which is considered very high for the detachment. Their marksmanship has been considered remarkable and the men have received the commendation of their superior officers.

Under the direction of Captain J. J. O'Leary the radio division is making rapid strides. The latest record to be sent up is the sending and receiving of two radiograms to and from Atlanta in the record time of 15 minutes. The radio department has played a very important part in the camp activities, receiving and sending instructions to headquarters at Atlanta.

LAST RITES FRIDAY FOR MRS. KURATH

The body of Mrs. Kathleen Morris Kurath, formerly of Atlanta, who died Tuesday morning at her home in Chicago following an illness of several months, will arrive here this morning and will be taken to Bowdon Friday for funeral services and interment.

A native of Bowdon, Mrs. Kurath moved to Atlanta in her early childhood with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morris. After completing her education at Bowdon, she entered the University of Chicago and was graduated in 1912 with honors. She was gifted in music, and soon after graduating from Bowdon, she continued her study of music at the Cincinnati conservatory and later took a post-graduate course under La Forge in New York.

For two years Mrs. Kurath taught music at Baylor college in Texas and was an instructor in the music department at Busk conservatory in Chicago. During the world war she spent several months overseas in concert work.

In September, 1925, she was married to Professor Hans Kurath, instructor of languages at Northwestern university in Chicago.

Mrs. Kurath is survived by her husband, and a brother, L. C. Morris, of 380 North Boulevard.

Two Damage Suit Verdicts Upheld In Supreme Court

In decisions handed down Wednesday the supreme court upheld two damage verdicts awarded plaintiffs in the Fulton superior court.

In one case the court approved a verdict of $10,000 rendered in favor of Roy Cook, East Point policeman, who lost a leg in an accident in which his motorcycle collided with a truck owned by the Atlanta Gas Light company. The court ruled the truck driver was at fault.

The court affirmed a verdict of $9,000 awarded Mrs. Jettie Ledford against the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic railroad. An automobile driven by Mrs. Ledford was struck by a locomotive owned by the railroad.

Studebaker Dealers View Newest Model At Annual Meeting

Presentation of "The President," the new series of Studebaker closed car models, was made Wednesday when dealers of the Studebaker corporation, who are served through the Atlanta branch, held their annual convention at the Atlanta Biltmore.

E. C. Seaton, manager for the Studebaker branch in Atlanta, presided at the meeting.

After the business session which occupied the morning, a luncheon was given to dealers attending the convention. This was followed by a short business session in the afternoon. Speakers for the day were Mr. Seaton, M. S. Supp, service manager for the Studebaker corporation; Kenneth Lewis, representing the L. A. C. company, and Mr. Pomeroy, special representative of the Studebaker bus division.

Much enthusiasm was shown by the dealers when the new models were introduced, and predictions were prevalent that with the aid of "The President" sales for the coming season would take a leap forward. It was pointed out the trend in the automobile trade is toward closed cars and that the new Studebaker series included every desirable type of closed body.

An announcement of the new models will be made Sunday, it was stated.

Firemen Win Pay Increase In Missouri

Atlanta firemen and their friends are gratified to learn of a recent ruling of the supreme court of the state of Missouri, in regard to an increase in salary voted by the people, but which was withheld by the city of St. Louis, wherein the supreme court ruled in favor of the firemen, according to J. B. Lee, member of the local fire department.

"In the June issue of the International Fire Fighter, a monthly publication by firemen all over the United States," Mr. Lee said, "the following lines headed an article in a daily paper of St. Louis, June 15, 1926, immediately after the state supreme court rendered its decision on the case of the Fire Fighters vs. the City of St. Louis, Mo.:

"The supreme court of the state of Missouri orders the board of estimate and apportionment of St. Louis to allow salary increase voted by the fire fighters by the people of St. Louis, April 17, 1925—total of $332,500 is due the fire fighters in back pay and must be paid immediately—contention that aldermen alone can legislate for St. Louis is denied and that a tax limit is no obstacle."

"According to the International Fire Fighter the firemen of the city sought a referendum vote on salary increase by the people in an election and when the election was carried, favoring the increase, the city of St. Louis filed an injunction and carried the case to the supreme court, but a reverse ruling was handed down by the courts."

A similar case is now pending in the Georgia supreme court, the difference being that the city of Atlanta's officials have not filed an injunction against the salary increase voted here December 2, 1925, but an injunction was filed by V. E. Green.

"City council voted Atlanta firemen an increase in salary, the apportionment sheet which was adopted in January, but the injunction prevented the city treasurer from paying the increase."

"The people of the city of Atlanta voted in the general election of December 2, 1925, in favor of the city firemen by an overwhelming majority, but the firemen have never received the increase due to the case being carried to the state courts."

Adopt This Rule

if a naturally lovely complexion is your wish

By NORMA TALMADGE

Copyrighted, 1928, by P. O. Beauty Features.

Leading skin specialists of the world urge it—it has given naturally clear complexions to more women than any other method known.

GAINING the charm of natural skin clearness is not difficult; nor does it depend on costly beauty methods.

Simple, natural ways now are given first place by authorities. Modern beauty culture has largely discarded the artificial ways of yesterday.

The following rule is being widely urged by experts. It is credited with bringing more women beautiful complexions than any other method known—just keeping the pores clean and the skin healthy, with the gentle olive and palm lather of Palmolive, used this way:

DO THIS—NOTE HOW YOUR SKIN IMPROVES

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Follow these rules day in and day out. Your skin will be soft and lovely—naturally colorful and clear. Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of Palmolive. Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only—to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins prove its effectiveness beyond all doubt. BE SURE YOU GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE. It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Note what one week of its use brings you. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

Mail This Application AT ONCE With Your Photograph.

Movie Test Editor, Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

My photograph is attached to this application for consideration by the judges as a possibility for the movie tests to be given between 11 a. m. and 12 noon daily at the Howard theater, week of August 2. I understand that not more than 30 screen tests will be given during these six days.

Name ..... Address ..... Phone ..... Age ..... Weight ..... Height ..... Color of Eyes ..... Color of Hair .....

Types and Not Beauty Alone Will Lead in Screen Contest

CONSTITUTION TEST MAY LEAD TO FAME IN MOVIE

You don't have to be a reigning beauty queen to get into the screen test contest which is in progress under the auspices of The Constitution and the Famous Players-Lasky company.

If you are a good representative of a distinct type send in your photograph at once as you have a good chance as a person to win the $100, $50 and $25 offered in prizes.

Screen tests for thirty of the entrants will be made during the week of August 2 at the Howard theater. The thirty will be selected from the list of people between the ages of 16 and 26 who will send in their photographs to the Screen Editor, The Constitution.

Don't hesitate because you feel you are not a beauty and don't feel you are false about the situation. There is nothing immodest about sending in a photograph so that experts can determine whether you have the face that photographs well for the screen. Your face may be the very type the cameramen are seeking. If it is you have a chance to get into the school for junior stars which will be conducted by the Paramount corporation in September and this engagement is almost certain to lead to stardom. This chance is given in addition to the three money prizes.

So young men and women of Atlanta dig up a good late photograph and send it to the Constitution Screen Test Editor. It may lead you into a career of fame and fortune.

Pretty Miss Ivy Harris last year entered a similar contest conducted by The Constitution. She simply sent in her photograph. Later she was called on to make screen tests and she made so good she won a scholarship in the Junior Star school and later won a permanent engagement.

Miss Harris will appear the week of August 2 at the Howard theater in the picture "Fascinating Youth" which was made by the junior stars selected last year, and she also will appear on the stage at the Howard during the same week in "Alice in Movieland," a John Murray Anderson production, in which all the junior stars who won last year's contest appear in person.

You don't have to live in Atlanta to be eligible. If you live in Rabun Gap, Waycross, Dalton, Chatworth, Macon or Augusta or in Alabama or South Carolina or anywhere else in the southeastern states you are eligible. Just send in your photograph to the Screen Test Editor of The Constitution accompanied by the filled-in card.

Slip of Papers Causes Arrest Of Two Bandits By Henry Lippitt

New York, July 21.—The brief but spectacular activities of two men whose crime record is believed to approach that of the notorious White-gang, have been halted with the arrest of George Cohen, of Chicago, and Solomon Braffman, for the $75,000 jewelry robbery Monday inside New York's financial district.

Police believe the pair are responsible for a series of daring robberies in the last six months in which loot totaled $400,000. The White-gang, with at least seven members, and headed by Richard Reese Whitmore who is now in Maryland penitentiary awaiting death August 13 for the murder of a prison guard, is credited with a haul of $1,250,000 in 13 months.

A crumpled, soiled slip of paper found in the raided offices of Heyman and Paigin, Maiden Lane jewelers, led detectives to a Madison avenue studio apartment where Cohen and Braffman were trapped.

On that slip was simply the scrawled notation: "Oliver Robinson, 561 Madison avenue."

Detective McKeever and three associates learned that Miss Robinson, an opera singer, had sublet her apartment four weeks ago to two men who told her they were Texas Rangers, "up north for a holiday."

She gave the officers' pass keys. When Braffman entered the apartment and flashed on the lights, four big men with revolvers in their fists faced him. He was seated and kept silent for five hours until Cohen came.

The detectives found a 12-gauge sawed-off shot gun, a .45 caliber revolver and a .32 caliber automatic pistol. Cohen admitted the ownership of this arsenal.

In hours of questioning, the detectives were unable to learn what disposition had been made of the loot. In the jargon of the criminal, Cohen told the detectives he wanted to talk to the district attorney.

"When he hears my song and dance, he'll ship me back to Chicago. The prosecutor out there would like to see me, I guess, and do some talking about the murder of an official out there a few weeks ago," Cohen said with a jaunty air.

"You mean the McSwiggan case?" one detective asked. "Well," the prisoner hesitated, "I want to talk to the D. A. he'll know what I mean."

The detectives said Cohen told them he had jumped $20,000 bail in Chicago which had been set in a case where he was accused of murdering a policeman. But they are not inclined to believe Cohen knows who killed Assistant State's Attorney McSwiggan in Chicago.

At headquarters, the men were booked on charges of robbery and assault.

Radio Company To Buy WEA

From A. T. & T.

New York, July 21.—The American Telephone and Telegraph will sell its radio station, WEA, of New York, to the Radio Corporation of America, it was announced tonight. The actual transfer will be made "before the end of the year."

The telephone company explained that WEA, one of the largest stations in the east, had been established as an experiment in a new means of communication. The years the station has been in operation have convinced the A. T. & T., however, that the objective of a broadcasting station is quite different from that of a telephone system.

"The experimental station has been very successful," the statement says, "and in the hands of the Radio Corporation of America, with its experience in radio broadcasting, the future of WEA should be assured. It is generally admitted that radio broadcasting has an important and permanent place in our national life."

The radio corporation at present operates WJZ in New York, one of the most powerful stations in the country. The telephone company did not state whether others of its string of radio stations would be sold.

Chicago Jail Guarded in Fear Of Big Delivery

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Ill., July 21.—The 12 policemen detailed to guard the county jail following the attempt by Henry Farnes, condemned murderer, to bomb his way out, were instructed today to shoot to kill anyone found acting suspiciously around the jail.

Barriers that a jailbreak on a significant scale had been planned among the prisoners and their friends were lifted in the jail.

The intensive investigation into conditions at the jail started in earnest today. Police officers served 20 subpoenas and the questioning of witnesses is under way. A bench warrant was issued today for Elmer Moore, a jail guard, who was discharged last week after he appeared in court under the influence of liquor. Moore could not be found.

The Chicago crime commission has taken a keen interest in conditions at the jail. That body in a recent statement demanded that Sheriff Peter Hoffman resign. Hoffman has just finished a 30-day jail sentence. He was sentenced for contempt of court in connection with favors shown to Frank Lake and Terry Druggan, bootleggers, who were allowed to roam the city at will while they were supposed to have been serving time in the jail.

Frank McElrath, another bootlegger, is said to have staged a drunken riot in the jail last Sunday. According to the story told by a former guard, McElrath chased a fellow prisoner through the jail corridor with a club and was subdued only after a hard battle.

It is said that certain guards were smuggling moonshine and explosives into the jail, but the name of the conspirator was not divulged. But McElrath, however, obtained a club. The club-chasing occurred on Sunday afternoon. During the evening, with the advent of more moonshine into the jail, McElrath suddenly, together with another prisoner, chased him through the corridors and finally slugging him over the head with an empty moonshine bottle. The victim was badly injured and was taken to the jail hospital.

DANCES BANNED Cardinal Forbids "Profane Manifestations."

Milan, Italy, July 21.—(AP)—Cardinal Tosi, archbishop of Milan, has placed a ban upon public dances and other "profane manifestations" among Catholics in his jurisdiction.

In a vigorous letter, urging members of his archdiocese to wage a campaign against immodest dressing also, the cardinal asks them to work toward lifting "the general standard of conduct to a more serious level, more compatible with the exigencies of the present hour."

Cotton - Textile Institute Headed By Henry Lippitt

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Former United States Senator Henry F. Lippitt of Pawtucket, R. I., was elected president of the Cotton-Textile Institute when it was organized in the Hotel Biltmore today.

The object of the organization, according to its articles of association, is to bring about a cooperation among cotton textile manufacturers and growers, to institute trade research and prepare a mobilization in national emergencies.

Legislative and political questions will be excluded from its activities, the articles provided. Leading cotton manufacturers of 17 states were represented at the convention, which was regarded as the first step in a movement to organize the industry on a national scale.

The personnel of the organization formed was elected to serve until the first annual meeting of the institute, to be held in October. Committees were appointed to form definite plans for the initial activities of the association, but it is not expected that much of the proposed work can be put into motion until after the meeting next fall. The permanent headquarters of the institute probably will be in New York.

Those behind the movement expect to have mills controlling 18,000,000 spindles, or almost half of the total in the United States, soon enrolled in the institute.

Other officers elected were: Vice presidents, Stuart W. Crumley, of Crumerton, N. C., and Robert Amory, of Waltham, Mass.; temporary secretary, William F. Garcelon, of Boston, Mass., and treasurer, Gerrish H. Miliken, of Huntsville, Ala.

INSTALLMENT LXIV.

CONNINGTON SENSES HIS OWN FOLLY.

The procurator fiscal had found a kindred spirit in David Leslie. The two had fraternized already, so there was prompt agreement as to the course to be followed during the next few days. At last Furneaux raised his diminutive body slowly out of the depths of a comfortable chair by a careful balancing act in which both hands and feet shared equally.

"If I yawn I may dislocate my jaw," he said. "An incautious movement might risk every joint. No man has ever been more tired than I and survived it. Please don't reckon on me for active service until the day after tomorrow."

Nevertheless, after a few hours' rest the little detective was himself again. He avoided the inquest, it is true, but was ready for the fray when a serious message from Dr. Stevenson warned Mr. Dinwall that Connington's depositions should be taken, since there was every indication that he would not last out the day. He was already showing marked symptoms of a sharp attack of pneumonia; his heart was in a bad state, too, and the real danger lay there.

Furneaux suggested at once that John should attend with the representative of the law.

"Mr. Pantom is the only person who can persuade Connington to reveal the actual facts," he urged. "No matter how willing, the man himself cannot judge the true value of his information unless the very officer he tried to ruin is before his eyes. He is sure to ramble a good deal, and try to palliate his actions by putting a gloss on them. In Mr. Pantom's presence, however, he will be constrained to tell us just what took place in France, and that is the one thing of vital importance now."

He was lying on his back, of course, owing to the broken limb.

Mr. Dingwall was surprised. "Important enough," he said, "but I hardly agree as to its relative importance. Surely what we want to know first and foremost is how Mr. Alistair Pantom met his death."

"But we know now, don't we?" "Most certainly, I don't," I assume that Connington struck the blow which proved fatal. But what was the immediate cause of the quarrel? How did the two come to meet at such a late hour in a secluded place like the landing stage? What was the object of their meeting? Were threats exchanged? I cannot understand, Mr. Furneaux, why you say we know these things, because we do not."

It cost the detective a real effort to refrain from pointing out that the dramatic scene by the side of the lake was a human document writ so plainly that those who read might read. Those two men shared a secret which, if revealed, involved both in ruin. He knew, just as surely as though Alistair Pantom had told him, that the fatal deviation was made when Sir Reginald Lansing announced his forthcoming departure. Pantom then lost his temper. Beaten and rebuffed at every turn, he decided to wreak vengeance on the poor dupe whom he had bent so easily to his will in France. But the dupe had grown desperate, and had never been a physical weakling, as his arm career proved beyond question. And that was Alistair Pantom's undoing. He played his own hand, and gave no thought to that of his adversary.

Mr. Dingwall, however, might not appreciate an analysis of motive translated into action which would almost savor of necromancy to one not aware of Furneaux's peculiar genius, so the disappointed artist sighed. "You're right, of course," he said sadly. "Jumping to conclusions has been the bane of my professional career. Had I conquered the habit early in life I might now have been mayor of Pudsey or chief constable of Middlesbrough."

The procurator fiscal had a sense of humor; it warned him once again that Furneaux hardly ever said what he meant. He saw clearly, however, that if Connington meant telling the whole truth John's presence was essential. Fortunately, too, Sheldon was an expert shorthand writer. A dying man's depositions have to be put on paper at the time, and to him, if possible, strict attention must be paid. A record of the proceedings in shorthand is a different thing altogether, and might prove invaluable when the whole affair was submitted to a court of inquiry.

When the four men reached Ferguson's farm they were received by Betty Bridgforth. The doctor's diagnosis had changed her plans. She thought that John's interests demanded her constant presence, and a district nurse from Mallaig was only too glad to have the help of such a thoroughly efficient assistant.

"You must contrive to make this business quite informal," she advised. "Connington's nerves are in a very bad condition. If he gets too excited he may relapse into delirium and die without recovering consciousness. The one thing he cannot endure is the barking of a dog. Ferguson has banished every cur in this house for the day, and Police Constable Campbell, stationed in the road, is trying to stop the yelping of passing mongrels."

"Is the man willing to testify, do you think?" inquired Dingwall anxiously. "Yes. I think I have convinced him that he ought to play the game, even at the eleventh hour. He is under no delusion as to the gravity of his state, and wishes now he had fallen in France, as the intervening years have brought nothing but misery. . . . Are you all ready? There's a small table, with pens, ink and paper, by the bedside, but I dared not bring in more than a couple of chairs. Don't troop after me. Drop in quietly—John and you leading, Mr. Dingwall."

Connington's bed stood between the door and a window which was not in the center of the wall but nearly opposite the pillow. Betty and the nurse would have changed its position had he not begged to be allowed to look out. He would not even let them lower the blind when the sun shone directly on his face. There was a pathetic significance in the whim, and they did not gainsay it.

He was lying on his back, of course, owing to the broken limb, but his head and shoulders were well propped up. When the newcomers entered the room he turned slightly, and his unnaturally brilliant eyes passed from one face to the other.

"Good morning, sir," he said to John in a weak but distinct voice, just as he would have addressed his company commander off parade in the old days.

"Good morning, Connington," said John. "I'm sorry you're so badly crooked."

His kindly tone, the utter absence of rancor, the smile of the wartime leader for a known and trusted soldier—those perfectly natural traits in so far as John was concerned seemed to have an alarming effect on the stricken man. His sallow skin showed a more extreme pallor, and he began to swear at himself in unmeasured terms. Obviously, he was not so much moved by remorse as by a sense of his own folly.

Betty Bridgforth put an arm under his shoulder and lifted a glass of brandy and water to his lips.

"Come now, Ferdinand," she said cheerfully, "that's no way to speak before a lady. Pull yourself together, my lad! Here are some excellent people come to see you. Tell them what you have told me, and you will do my cousin John a lot of good while it won't cause you a hair's breadth of harm."

Opera Fantasy, 'The Pirates,' Supreme Achievement in Music and Entertainment Delicious Whimsy, Says Jones

BY RALPH T. JONES.

All my life, in England and America, there has been one operatic fantasy which, to me, has always represented the supreme achievement in delicious whimsy, in lovely music, in light and frothy entertainment. That is "Pirates of Penzance."

To begin with, there never was and never will be any team of composers and librettists so perfect as that of W. S. Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan. And, secondly, "Pirates of Penzance" is, to me, the most perfect thing they wrote.

I have seen and heard productions of "Pirates" of all sorts and conditions, on all sorts of stages in all sorts of towns and cities in England, Canada and the United States. When ever it is given within my reach, I am there.

Therefore, imagine my disappointment when circumstances made it impossible for me to be at the Atlanta Theater last Monday night, when the Municipal Opera association opened its week's production of "Pirates," as the fifth of its series of summer operas and musical comedies.

However, life, though it may have been drab through Monday and Tuesday of this week, brightened on Wednesday. For yesterday I spent over four hours in the Atlanta theater. At the matinee, I stood up at the back—for every seat in the house was sold long before I got there. It didn't matter, however, for the beloved "Pirates" was before my eyes and in my ears, and I'd have been unconscious of my position if I had stood in mud to my knees, with mosquitoes buzzing round my head.

Then, Wednesday night, I went again. Secured a seat this time. And any day on which I can witness two performances of "Pirates" such as I witnessed yesterday is a day well spent.

Atlanta is enjoying, this week, a marvelous production of "Pirates." Of course, we all know the performers are good, but it really doesn't matter. If ever there was a performance where "the play's the thing," it is "Pirates." Let us give thanks to Low Morton and Charles Berton for the production they have directed. And to the Stagecraft studios for the beautiful settings they have provided. But, most of all, let us thank those two magic geni, Gilbert and Sullivan, for writing the thing.

"Pirates of Penzance," you probably know, is a burlesque on the florid type of Italian grand opera. Its satire is the funniest you ever heard. Sullivan wrote music which is one long laugh at the absurdities of old-fashioned grand opera, with its thrills and runs and staccato arias and senseless recitatives.

Then Gilbert came along and wrote words that are the acme of foolishness. He based his plot on a huge poking finger of satire, holding up to ridicule and Englishman's exaggerated devotion to what he construes as "duty."

You should study the libretto of "Pirates." You'll get more genuine humor out of it than out of anything written since.

But, beyond that, you should see the performances at the Atlanta this week. You will see Templeman giving a "Major General" that is the best I have seen in England or America. You will see Anne Yago singing the role of "Ruth" so that you can hear every word and with a charmingly nervous but "remains of a fine woman" that is a thing to live in memory. And you will hear Louise Hunter singing the burlesqued opera of the score all the better because of her grand opera training; Jefferson d'Angella giving a performance of the Sergeant of Police, "highly nervous" but "managing to appear insensible to fear."

And so on. A great production of the best and funniest and most musical of operatic farces.

Furniture Dealer Returns From Trip To Factory Center

J. L. Satterwhite, president of the Satterwhite Furniture company, of 222 Peachtree street, and Mrs. Fletcher Satterwhite recently returned from the furniture markets of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Chicago.

Mr. Satterwhite, speaking of this year's exhibition of furniture, says that in the many years he has been going to the furniture markets he never saw as fine or as large an exhibit as was displayed this year.

The Chicago exhibit was described by Mr. Satterwhite as the greatest ever seen in the world and it took 24 acres of floor space to hold all the many new and pretty designs of furniture seen there this year.

Mr. Satterwhite had the newly married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Satterwhite, who he has bought home furnishings goods, and says he will offer some very attractive prices on these goods in the next few days.

"It always has been our policy to help the young married people get started in life," Mr. Satterwhite said, "and we operate with them in a very liberal way, extending them when needed very long and easy time credits."

TOBACCO WAREHOUSE IN RECEIVER'S HANDS

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—Following the granting of a few weeks ago of a receivership for the Tri-State Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Marketing association, Federal Judge J. M. Meekins today threw a subsidiary organization, the Eastern North Carolina Warehousing corporation, into receivership.

W. G. Bramham, of Durham, was named as receiver. Judge Meekins fixed the receiver's bond at $50,000. The warehousing corporation, which was capitalized at $1,300,000, did not oppose the receivership motion, which was made by counsel for the five Virginia members who brought the tobacco association receivership suit.

THREE MEN KILLED IN POWDER BLAST

Joplin, Mo., July 21.—(AP)—Three men were killed in a dynamite explosion in the plant of the Atlas Powder company, eight miles east of Joplin today. The dead: Thomas F. Dickson, 32; Leoford Akin, 27, and Jeff Parley, 25.

Day's Record of Peach Shipments Are Broken As 750 Carloads Move

Fort Valley, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—This will be the last busy week of the 1938 peach season.

Many growers have already closed their packing houses and many peach trucks have moved on up in north Georgia and North Carolina to handle the crop of peaches there. When 750 carloads of peaches were shipped from Fort Valley in one day the past week, it was the largest number ever shipped from this station in one day in the history of the peach industry, it is said.

HEINZ GIVES TALK AT EXCHANGE CLUB

"Service and Brotherhood" was the topic of a talk given by Henry C. Heinz, vice president of the Citizens and Southern bank and international treasurer of the Kiwanis, at the regular Tuesday luncheon of the Exchange club in the Henry Grady hotel. Mr. Heinz, in his address, stressed opportunities and benefits accruing from all service club activities.

The Exchange club will hold its "Kids' day" next Tuesday, when all members are requested to bring a child to the meeting. About 50 children are expected to be present.

INN FIRE VICTIMS BURIED TOGETHER

Haines Falls, N. Y., July 21.—(AP)—High up on the green-clad slope of a Catskill mountainside, the bodies of 14 victims of the Twilight inn were laid at rest today by the firemen who fought in vain to save them from death early last Wednesday morning. Silently seated under a wide-spreading apple tree which threw a shadow upon the single grave, were two score relatives and friends of the dead. Around the outskirts of an inclosure stood several hundred village and summer residents, all were visibly affected by the impressive, undenominational funeral service.

Shortly before the service at the cemetery began, practically every house in the community closed its doors and all flags were lowered to half staff. Four clergymen officiated at the funeral ceremony.

The dead were buried in four caskets because of the badly charred condition of the bodies.

Electrical Firm Reports Buying Of Radio Heavy

With unusually good reception for this season of the year, the demand for radio sets is increasing daily, says Mr. Blankenship, of the firm of Miller-Blankenship Electric company in the Peachtree Arcade.

Radio users say they have been more than delighted with the radio sets they have purchased from them and especially in this, so with those who have sets that enable them to get programs put on by big stations at long distances.

When it is recalled that the radio business is only a few years old it is surprising the great strides made in this line in the past few months. This firm also reports an increase in all lines of electrical goods, sales in batteries and other radio accessories indicating that more radio sets than ever are now in the homes of the people of this section.

The electrical and radio repair department as maintained by Miller-Blankenship is having its busiest season now. During the past month practically every conceivable kind of electrical appliance has been brought in for repairs and the expert workmen in charge of this department repair them all very quickly.

The service is complete and satisfactory and it often is where ice men undertake to serve more customers than can be served satisfactorily in two or three hours' time. The same object is in mind in furnishing paper drinking cups and dispensers. The Pura company produces Pura water (triple distilled), High Rock spring water, and Waukegan lithia water, and has a large patronage which has naturally followed a uniformly efficient, reliable service and absolutely pure water over a period of many years.

Hints for Housewives Suggestions From Here and There

The flowered frock and the very large Milan hat seems to be this season's uniform. It is only in detail that one costume differs from another. An interesting detail of this chiffon frock is its shirred waistline, placed very low but rising in the front to be finished with a bow of narrow grosgrain.

Navy and White.
Navy and white is one of the summer's smartest combinations and makes a very practical frock for street wear in town. Beltless models have an inverted pleat at each side seam and a deep V-neck with vest and rolling collar of white. The sleeves are set in.

Table Decoration.
Nothing more effective for the table could be chosen than a cloth of white linen done in black Italian cross-stitching. The effect of the color scheme is enhanced by the use of Italian pottery in black and white. The glassware is of crystal edged with a fine line of black and with touches

Russian Coats for Fall Modified Lines Will Dominate

The lines of the Russian Cossack coat, somewhat modified, but taking its inspiration directly from the original, are expected to be the ones that will dominate the fall season. The silhouettes have settled into more permanent fixtures. This silhouette, which primarily is a full, straight line belted at the waistline, is so long in the back that it touches the hem of the undercoat, which is bordered with fur, giving the effect of an all-in-one coat. The cutaway is so long in the back that it touches the hem of the undercoat, which is bordered with fur, giving the effect of an all-in-one coat.

The blouse line, as it is interpreted for fall, is a much modified version of the all-around pouch. It appears only in the back in conjunction with a straight front, and frequently is used with a dolman draping. This dolman draping itself is achieved in various manners, some times by the kimono sleeve, by a dropped shoulderline cut in a curve, or by a shoulder treatment called the "half moon shoulder." In one instance, a kimono sleeve is used and the blouse drape of the back is effected by darts running downward over the hips from the side seams. Another manner of making a blouse effect is shown in a model which has a tiered back from a wide shoulder yoke, the last tier being looped under in blouse effect. These horizontal tiers are graduating and appear only across the back.

The capeline is given treatment that implies more a cape sleeve than an absolute cape styling. The wide

"The call of the open is appealing to a greater number of our American people as the years go by," D. T. Hicks, president of the Standard Tent and Awning company, 92 Edgewood avenue, said Wednesday in discussing business conditions from the canvas man's viewpoint. "And the present season is the best one we have ever had in our camp supply department."

Pleating in Novel Ways.
There never has been a year when pleats were more in evidence or when this form of decoration appeared in such varied interpretations. Not only are fine knife and box pleats used on frocks of every description, from the simplest sport frock to a fragile model of chiffon for afternoon wear, but new arrangements of pleats to suggest a definite pattern lend added interest to silk and chiffon dresses.

Many of the smartest dresses circular or diamond shaped motifs are formed by reversing pleats. Special machines have been constructed to do this intricate pleating and the results are quite as lovely and smart as they are different. One dress at a distance gives the effect of zig-zag stripes, but upon inspection it is seen that this is achieved by this new method of pleating.

crinkled belt is a favorite touch used in connection with the straight, the blouse and the bolero-line.

The double coat line before spoken of might be classed as a modification of the bolero line, but it is so different that it deserves special classification. The effect is of a two-piece suit with long cutaway jacket. In line belted at the waistline, so long in the back that it touches the hem of the undercoat, which is bordered with fur, giving the effect of an all-in-one coat.

Fur is the popular trimming throughout, although there is some use of embroidery in dashing effects in contrasting colors. Fur collars and cuffs are the rule, although their lines show much variation. Sleeves are made almost always with a flare, and the fur, although in some cases it is cut as a regular cuff, usually is made a decoration for the flaring sleeve. The Queen Anne, combined with pouch or shawl collar, and the collar that is like a standing lily cup, are the two favorite collar trends, and there is an illustration of a double collar that is interesting. The side collar is made of fur and rises high at the back of the throat, continuing down the front in shawl shape. Inside this the coat button, up tightly about the throat with an embroidered standing fabric collar.

Broadcloth is a favorite fabric throughout, and the fur with short, thick pelts, such as fitch and squirrel, are seen on the majority of coats shown.

The Fulton tent is patented and comes in several sizes, the 9 1-2x7 with two sets of collapsible poles weighing only 30 pounds and the 12x7 weighs but 33 pounds. These are the two popular family sizes while the larger sizes, like the 9 1-2x12 and the 12x14 hold six and eight cots each and can take care of a large party in good shape.

Fulton tents are designed for comfort and convenience and built to withstand wind and rain. The seams are doubled sewed and non-transparent, mosquito proof, light in weight,

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Domestic cotton prices advanced today, with the market made gains today which lifted some contracts close to the highest levels of the month, and left final prices 10 to 21 points above the previous close.

From the start, which was 5 points higher to one lower, the market reflected a steady demand from shorts, to which was added during the session supporting orders from Wall Street, the trade and commission houses, all based on official and private predictions for showers in the southwest.

Offsetting the unexpectedly favorable weekly government weather and crop review, these forecasts, with reports of gains at numerous points in Texas and Oklahoma today, strengthened the bullish sentiment which was already quite strongly entrenched in the market and greatly restricted selling pressure, which in view of the serious financial situation in France, might otherwise have developed.

Complaints of weevil, root, loper and poor fruiting were numerous from the southwest, advancing October contracts to 17.40 and January to 17.44 in the afternoon.

Additional private crop estimates brought the total thus far issued up to seven, with an average condition of 72.3 and indicated crop of 15,153,000 bales. In a number of quarters a drift towards expectations of a bullish report by the government on Friday was noted, with a probability that whatever it may be, the trade will take into account alleged damage to the crop since the official figures were compiled.

Liverpool was comparatively firm, but sent selling orders here, as did the south. It was said today that mill interests, aside from Japan, have been slow to make forward commitments on new crop cotton, leaving a high potential buying interest open in the event of a genuine crop scare.

MARKET ACTIVE
New Orleans, La., July 21.—(AP)—The cotton market was moderately active today but trading was somewhat held in check by fears of the approaching government report to be issued Friday. The general trend of prices was upward, due largely to covering in advance of the bureau report, but there were reactions of moderate proportions from time to time, due to liquidation by longs who feared.

Growth of Cotton Helped By Warmer Weather

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Cool nights caused some retardation in the growth of cotton, but warmer weather the latter part of the week was more to the department of agriculture's satisfaction in its summary of conditions in southern states for the week ended yesterday.

There was too much moisture in southern Texas and also in the extreme southeastern portion of the belt, but otherwise very little rain fell as a rule and moisture is needed in some interior districts from the Mississippi valley eastward.

Truck is mostly good to excellent, the summary stated, and tobacco is mostly good in the southeast, but needs moisture in Tennessee and Kentucky, uneven growth being reported in the latter states. Sweet potatoes are progressing in the southeast and Atlantic coast states.

Conditions by States.
Maryland—Crops made fine growth; some tanning and some laid by. Pastures much improved. Insects caused some damage in some sections; first crop of sweet potatoes and tomatoes doing well. Excellent crops of apples, peaches and pears.

Virginia—Very favorable for growing crops; later plantings improved. Excellent progress, later plantings improved.

Speculation is increasing in Wall Street Regarding What Direction of the U. S. Steel Corporation Will Do Next Tuesday.

preached low selling prices to other manufacturers. With more stock outstanding, however, larger earnings will be needed. The independents certainly would welcome higher selling prices for finished products. It is pointed out too by officials of independent steel companies that the steel corporation could cut its regular dividend from 7 to 5 per cent and then be giving the holder of the common stock more through a stock dividend than is now being received. A cut in dividend would help along in a campaign for higher steel selling prices.

More Rutland preferred is now coming out on the tape than in many a long day. New York Central and New Haven paid $100 a share for an interest in this road back in 1912. Rutland paid $200 back dividends due. It is expected to earn $2 a share this year.

The undertone of the market is shown by the experience of a manager of one of the largest exchange houses receiving an order before the opening from a customer to sell 3,000 shares of National Biscuit at 93 or better. The closing price last morning was 92 7/8. The opening this morning was 93 with a quick advance to 95 1/4 the broker getting an average of 95 for the 3,000 shares. This customer was so pleased that he immediately placed an order to buy 3,000 shares of either stock, including 1,000 General Motors National Biscuit at 93 paying 4 per cent dividends offers an income return of only 4.3 per cent. But General Motors still less selling around today's high price.

In both cases, however, the small income return is explained by the fact that the National Biscuit paid $1 extra in 1909, 1907, 1908, 2 per cent extra in 1911, 1 per cent extra in 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922. General Motors also has a reputation for increasing its regular dividend and declaring extra dividends. An extra dividend was declared three months ago just after the regular dividend had been increased and speculative Wall Street is expecting another. A search warrant was required to find a bull on the stock market around the end of May when stock prices began to advance. Those who could see only the bear side to the market eight weeks ago can now see ahead only advancing prices.

Strength in Anaconda, Kennecott and other copper shares was attributed in quarters usually well informed to pool buying. A number of new pools are being formed in copper shares based on hopes of a favorable outcome of the plans now under way to form a very large copper export association and to drive the foreign association out of business. As recently pointed out, however, some Wall Street people believe that the plan which is now before the directors of the company will be turned down by the commission.

With the quarterly meeting of the United States Steel corporation and directors scheduled for next Tuesday, speculation is increasing in Wall Street as to what the directors will do. The best information obtainable is that the regular $1.75 will be declared this quarter but that something will be done before the end of the year. Speculative Wall Street believes that it is only a question of time till holders of steel common will get either an extra cash dividend or a stock dividend. Officials of other steel companies are telling their friends that they sincerely hope that the steel corporation directors will declare a stock dividend. If only an extra cash dividend is declared, officials of independent steel manufacturers say, there will be no benefit to the steel trade but that if a stock dividend is declared there will be a good reason why the steel corporation will work for higher steel selling prices.

For years the steel corporation has

Warren Grice Named To Represent Negro In Macon Slaying

Macon, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—Warren Grice, a colored man, was named by the Georgia Bar association and former attorney general of Georgia, was tonight named by Judge H. A. Matthews, of Bibb county superior court, to represent the colored man in the trial of the slaying of Miss Hilda Smith and E. W. Wilson on July 16.

Mr. Grice accepted to accept the place if an assistant would be provided. Judge Matthews announced. Judge Matthews stated that he would name the assistant tomorrow morning, having in mind the man who would be chosen, but he preferred not to announce the name until he had conferred with him.

Ninety names were drawn tonight for the jury, which is ordered to report for trial in the case at 10 o'clock, Tuesday morning.

It is expected that Solicitor General Charles H. Garrett, who will reach North Carolina tonight from New York, being away on his vacation, will return to personally prosecute the negro.

Miss Smith, 20, and Wilson, 21, were charged by indictment in September. The negro confessed he shot the two while their automobile was parked on a roadside near Camp Wheeler. He denied, however, that he had removed the automobile and the bodies to the thicket where they were later found.

Many Fields Cleared in Georgia and Crops Are Mostly Laid by; Cotton Fair to Good.

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Cool nights caused some retardation in the growth of cotton, but warmer weather the latter part of the week was more to the department of agriculture's satisfaction in its summary of conditions in southern states for the week ended yesterday.

There was too much moisture in southern Texas and also in the extreme southeastern portion of the belt, but otherwise very little rain fell as a rule and moisture is needed in some interior districts from the Mississippi valley eastward.

Truck is mostly good to excellent, the summary stated, and tobacco is mostly good in the southeast, but needs moisture in Tennessee and Kentucky, uneven growth being reported in the latter states. Sweet potatoes are progressing in the southeast and Atlantic coast states.

Conditions by States.
Maryland—Crops made fine growth; some tanning and some laid by. Pastures much improved. Insects caused some damage in some sections; first crop of sweet potatoes and tomatoes doing well. Excellent crops of apples, peaches and pears.

Virginia—Very favorable for growing crops; later plantings improved. Excellent progress, later plantings improved.

Speculation is increasing in Wall Street Regarding What Direction of the U. S. Steel Corporation Will Do Next Tuesday.

preached low selling prices to other manufacturers. With more stock outstanding, however, larger earnings will be needed. The independents certainly would welcome higher selling prices for finished products. It is pointed out too by officials of independent steel companies that the steel corporation could cut its regular dividend from 7 to 5 per cent and then be giving the holder of the common stock more through a stock dividend than is now being received. A cut in dividend would help along in a campaign for higher steel selling prices.

More Rutland preferred is now coming out on the tape than in many a long day. New York Central and New Haven paid $100 a share for an interest in this road back in 1912. Rutland paid $200 back dividends due. It is expected to earn $2 a share this year.

The undertone of the market is shown by the experience of a manager of one of the largest exchange houses receiving an order before the opening from a customer to sell 3,000 shares of National Biscuit at 93 or better. The closing price last morning was 92 7/8. The opening this morning was 93 with a quick advance to 95 1/4 the broker getting an average of 95 for the 3,000 shares. This customer was so pleased that he immediately placed an order to buy 3,000 shares of either stock, including 1,000 General Motors National Biscuit at 93 paying 4 per cent dividends offers an income return of only 4.3 per cent. But General Motors still less selling around today's high price.

In both cases, however, the small income return is explained by the fact that the National Biscuit paid $1 extra in 1909, 1907, 1908, 2 per cent extra in 1911, 1 per cent extra in 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922. General Motors also has a reputation for increasing its regular dividend and declaring extra dividends. An extra dividend was declared three months ago just after the regular dividend had been increased and speculative Wall Street is expecting another. A search warrant was required to find a bull on the stock market around the end of May when stock prices began to advance. Those who could see only the bear side to the market eight weeks ago can now see ahead only advancing prices.

Strength in Anaconda, Kennecott and other copper shares was attributed in quarters usually well informed to pool buying. A number of new pools are being formed in copper shares based on hopes of a favorable outcome of the plans now under way to form a very large copper export association and to drive the foreign association out of business. As recently pointed out, however, some Wall Street people believe that the plan which is now before the directors of the company will be turned down by the commission.

With the quarterly meeting of the United States Steel corporation and directors scheduled for next Tuesday, speculation is increasing in Wall Street as to what the directors will do. The best information obtainable is that the regular $1.75 will be declared this quarter but that something will be done before the end of the year. Speculative Wall Street believes that it is only a question of time till holders of steel common will get either an extra cash dividend or a stock dividend. Officials of other steel companies are telling their friends that they sincerely hope that the steel corporation directors will declare a stock dividend. If only an extra cash dividend is declared, officials of independent steel manufacturers say, there will be no benefit to the steel trade but that if a stock dividend is declared there will be a good reason why the steel corporation will work for higher steel selling prices.

For years the steel corporation has

Contracts Let

Three Buildings Are To Be Constructed.

Tallahassee, Fla., July 21.—(AP)—Contracts for the construction of three buildings at the state farm colony at Gainesville, and for coal to supply the various state institutions for the coming winter, were awarded today by the board of commissioners of state institutions.

Gude and company, of Jacksonville, was the lowest bidder for the farm colony buildings, with $220,000. The contract calls for the erecting of buildings for epileptic boys and girls and a tuberculosis building. Six others are to be erected.

Adams, Rowe and Norman, of Birmingham, Ala., was awarded the contract for 12,000 tons of coal, shipment to begin August 1.

PRICES DECLINE ON CURB MARKET

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Erratic price fluctuations characterized today's curb market, with final quotations mostly lower. Net declines in most of the active issues were held to fractions, with trading almost entirely of a professional character.

Oils continued sluggish on the confirmation by the American Petroleum institute of private reports of a large increase in crude oil production last week. Standard Oil of Kansas fell back nearly 2 points to a new low for the year at 21. On the other hand, Standard Oil of Ohio preferred touched a new 1923 peak at 120 1/2, and Ohio Oil and Creole Syndicate each advanced over a point.

Heavy buying of Durant Motors, which advanced 1 1/4 points to 6 3/4 after selling as low as 3 1/2 a few weeks ago, featured the motor group. Franklin preferred jumped 7 points to a new high at 90, but Brooklyn, Stutz and Rickenbacker were heavy. Coal shares were mixed, Gen Aiden losing 1 1/2 points.

Baking shares were quiet but firm. Price movements in the public utility stocks were uneven, although considerable interest was aroused in an extreme gain of nearly 3 points in American Gas and Electric.

L. V. Nicholas Asks $1,000,000 Damages in Court.

Chicago, July 21.—(AP)—L. V. Nicholas, president of the Independent Oil Men of America, announced today that his company had filed a suit for $1,000,000 or more damages in the federal court of Hammond, Ind., against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana involving the defendant company's opposition to the use of its trade mark "Red Hat".

The matter is pending in the United States patent office, where the Standard Oil company has filed a protest months ago. Mr. Nicholas in a statement declared that officials of the Standard Oil company had made misstatements and that his company regarded the "unfair and unjust" action of the Standard in its efforts through the patent office to prevent use of the trade mark by the complaining company.

The following information is contained in the letter to us from Mr. S. Davies Warfield, President of Seaboard Air Line Railway Company:

THE COMPANY

The Seaboard Air Line Railway System directly operates 3,928 miles of railroad (exclusive of 472.77 miles of subsidiary and separately operated companies), extending from Richmond, Virginia, through the South Atlantic States. The territory traversed is one of the most productive sections of the South, including the great citrus fruit-bearing, vegetable, cotton and tobacco growing districts and also many important manufacturing sections. The strength of the Seaboard's position is indicated in that its percentage of miscellaneous freight to total traffic is greater than that of any important competing railroad of the South. The lines of the Seaboard System reach substantially all the important cities of the South Atlantic seaboard and extend to Tampa, Fla., on the Gulf and to other Florida west coast points, to West Palm Beach (Palm Beach), Fla., on the east coast, to Norfolk and all important South Atlantic ports south of Norfolk, and also to Atlanta, Ga., Montgomery, Ala., and Birmingham, Ala. The Seaboard System reaches Washington, D. C., over the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad, in which it has an interest.

The Seaboard System enjoys superior competitive advantages as the short line between Richmond and Florida. By the extension of its main line to West Palm Beach it became the only railway system operating through trains over its own rails from Richmond to points on the lower east coast of Florida. The Seaboard System has the only direct line across the peninsula of Florida connecting the two coasts.

SECURITY

The First and Consolidated Mortgage bonds in the opinion of counsel are a direct obligation of Seaboard Air Line Railway Company and are secured by direct first mortgage lien on approximately 442 miles of railroad, including the through low-grade main line of 238 miles from Hamlet, North Carolina, to Savannah, Georgia, via Charleston, South Carolina. They are further secured by pledge of certain securities, including $53,921,000 Refunding Mortgage bonds out of a total of $73,271,000 issued.

The effect of covenants made by the company is that no additional bonds (other than First and Consolidated Mortgage bonds) secured by any existing mortgage lien on any of the company's property now directly owned may be issued except additional Refunding Mortgage bonds, which by the provisions of the First and Consolidated Mortgage are required to be pledged thereunder. As such additional Refunding Mortgage bonds shall be issued and pledged under the First and Consolidated Mortgage, holders of First and Consolidated Mortgage bonds will acquire an increased interest in the security afforded by the Refunding Mortgage.
